FLOWER SHOW IN CITY IS MOST SUCCESSFUL

MANY TOURISTS AMONG VISITORS AT COURT HOUSE

HUNDREDS OF MOST BEAUTIFUL FLOWERS ARE ON EXHIBIT
DISPLAYS MADE WILL STIMULATE MEMBERSHIP GROWTH OF SOCIETY

A new variety of gladioli, heretofore unnamed by the growers, The Riverview Gardens, of St. Paul, which was displayed at the Crow Wing County Flower Show at the court house, has been named "The Mabel Carmichael," in honor of Mrs. Mabel C. Carmichael, of Brainerd, secretary of the Crow Wing County Flower society. The name was given by A. J. Wilkus, one of the judges at the show, who is also one of the heads of the Riverview Gardens.

Mrs. Carmichael was well pleased with the honor conferred upon her. She expressed herself, "Never had such a thrill in all my life."

Visited by hundreds of people from all parts of Crow Wing county and many tourists, each individual acclaimed the flower show which closes today at the court house as the outstanding flower show in the history of the Crow Wing County Garden Flower society.

Hundreds of the most beautiful, exquisite flowers cared for tenderly by flower lovers throughout the county are on exhibit, and the scene created by the innumerable shades of the flowers against a background of plants, ferns, tamarack boughs and marble walls is magnificent. The beauty of the scene could not be appreciated unless viewed by the individual. As connoisseurs of fine art, flower lovers yesterday and today admired each flower, its delicate evenly matched petals and gorgeous colorings.

Members of the committee in charge of the show who have worked hard to insure its success are well pleased with the turnout of visitors and the exhibit displays.

Membership Growing

"Our membership is now nearly 100," said Mrs. W. H. Cleary, one of the active members of the arrangement committee. "We hope to have a much larger membership as our shows are carried on by the membership fee taken in. What we would like is a membership of 10,000, for each man, woman and child in Brainerd. Think what a beautiful city Brainerd would be if the people realized the importance of beautifying the city by planting flowers. We hope next year to have entries from a large number of children, one of our aims being to encourage children in the growth of flowers."

Natalie Kampmann, five years old, won first prize for the most beautifully arranged flower basket. Little Miss Kampmann grew the flowers and arranged the basket herself.

Thomas Murphy today entered a plant for exhibition which flower experts here are unable to determine the species. Mr. Murphy stated that he secured a plant slip from the St. Joseph's hospital four years ago and has cared for it ever since. It is now a well filled out plant with small cherries on it which at maturity blossom out into a small flower of five petals. It is believed that the plant may be a species of the "Jerusalem Cherry."

An exhibit of beautiful gladioli is on display through the courtesy of the Riverview Gardens of St. Paul. A novelty in large stemmed zinnias and gladioli grown by Holm and Olson, of St. Paul, are also on display.

Committee Members Grateful Over Success

The following are the members of the committee who were responsible for the success of the show: Dr. G. I. Badeaux, Mesdames W. H. Cleary, H. D. Hoffman, George Kampmann, Sr., C. A. Nelson, Wm. V. Turcotte, M. C. Carmichael, Nesbitt Nelson, Fred Kelly.

The following are some of the varieties of flowers on display: Antirrhinum, Delphinium Annual and Perennial, Asters, Calendula, Cosmos, Dahlias, Collasia Coxcomb, Salpiglossis, Stocks, Sweet Peas, Zinnias, Straw Flowers, Poppies, Pansies, Nasturtiums, Salvia, Clarkia, Tiger Lillies, Gallardia, Phlox, Centuria Cyannus, Sun Flowers, Mignonette, Verbena, Petunia, Balsam, Golden Glow, Wall Flower, Marigold, Dian-

Fergus Falls, Minn., Aug. 18.—(UP)—Search is being made today for John T. West, editor of the New York Mills Herald, who disappeared mysteriously on Friday, July 29, after publishing the weekly edition of his newspaper.

West had been in poor health and was appraised by business worries, according to friends. Letters appealing for assistance in locating him have been mailed. They express the fear that he suffered a mental breakdown. He was well known and highly regarded. He left a wife and two children, Jane, 3, and Buddy, 2. They are living in the home he purchased recently.

West last was observed in a dilapidated automobile near here. Investigation disclosed that he had taken two suitcases filled with clothing. He said nothing to relatives or friends about departing. However, he wrote a brief note saying he was leaving, but making no explanations.

theus, Calliopeis, Scabiosa, Shasta Daisy, Phlox Perennial, Coreopsis, Mothers' Flower, Monkshood, Carnations, Kuerbis, Sweet Allysium, Gladiola, Fever Few, Baby Breath and Hydrangea.

"Opalescent," the gladioli submitted by A. P. Cardie, won the gladioli sweepstakes prize which was the trophy donated by the Citizens State Bank.

The flowers will be sold this afternoon and evening.

U. S. Does Not Care to Have Arms Inspection By Foreign Agencies

PRINCIPLE IS ENUNCIATED BY SEC. KELLOGG

GOVERNMENT URGES LIMITATION OF AUXILIARY NAVAL ARMAMENTS

KELLOGG MAKES ANNOUNCEMENT IN SPEECH DELIVERED AT PLATTSBURG

Plattsburg, N. Y., Aug. 18.—(UP)—While the American government is urging limitation of auxiliary naval armaments "it will not accept supervision of any outside body or be subject to inspection or control by foreign agencies," Secretary of State Kellogg made clear today.

Kellogg made that pronouncement in a speech delivered here dedicating the memorial to Commodore Thomas MacDonough, naval hero of the battle of Lake Champlain in the war of 1812.

Kellogg described the question of land armaments as one not directly affecting this country and one which can be solved more expeditiously by separate regional pacts of the governments concerned.

He denied the American delegation will withdraw from Geneva where armament questions are under discussion, and expressed the hope that the preparatory meeting there would procure a practical program for a future arms conference. Kellogg predicted perpetual peace between the United States and Great Britain.

Volstead Denies Being Considered as Dry Administrator

St. Paul, Aug. 18.—(UP)—Andrew J. Volstead, father of the prohibition enforcement laws, declared today that he was not being considered for prohibition enforcement administrator of Minnesota, North Dakota and northern Wisconsin and added that he would not take the job if he could get it.

The statement completed the string of denials that followed reports that Volstead would succeed Brigadier General Walter F. Rhinow, commander of the Minnesota national guard, who is on leave to serve as prohibition director.

"I do not want an administrative job," said Volstead, who is adviser to General Rhinow.

AN ECHO FROM TEAPOT DOME CASE

Washington, Aug. 18.—(UP)—Counsel for Edward L. Doheny, Albert J. Fall, former secretary of the Interior, and Harry F. Sinclair today petitioned the court of appeals of the District of Columbia to deny the motion of special government counsel to dismiss the appeal in the oil leasing case allowed by that court last March and set for argument October 4. They are charged with conspiracy to defraud the government.

The counsel charged the Walsh act, upon which the motion for dismissal of the appeal was based, is unconstitutional. The Walsh act directs the courts to permit no appeal from interlocutory orders in criminal cases.

HUNTING TRIP FATAL TO MILL CITY LAD OF 15

Minneapolis, Aug. 18.—(UP)—A hunting trip was fatal Tuesday to Alfred Henry Hanson, 15, of Minneapolis, who was shot and killed in Golden Valley presumably by a bullet from the gun of his companion, William L. Gamble, 17. Although Gamble was held for questioning, Dr. G. W. Kallerstrom, deputy coroner, said he believed the shooting was accidental. Gamble said he was hunting blackbirds and mudhens and firing he unknowingly aimed at Hanson who unknown to his companion had climbed a tree.

QUESTIONING OF LOUIS MAZER NOW RESUMED

EFFORTS ARE MADE TO BREAK DOWN HIS ALIBI

MAN IS NOW CENTRAL FIGURE IN THE MELLETT CASE

Cleveland, Aug. 18.—(UP)—Questioning of Louis Mazer, held here on a first degree murder charge for the assassination of Don R. Mellett, Canton Daily News publisher, was resumed today in a second effort to break down his alibi.

Throughout the first day of examination, Mazer, proprietor of a pool hall in Canton's "Jungle," clung desperately to the theory that he was visiting Floyd E. Streitenberger, a policeman friend, at the time of Mellett's murder.

Buffalo, Aug. 18.—Louis Mazer, under arrest in Cleveland in connection with the murder of Don R. Mellett, has an alibi witness here in Detective Floyd E. Streitenberger of Canton.

Streitenberger is a delegate to the fraternal order of police now in session here. He said Mazer, whom he describes as a "bootlegger of no account," is innocent of the murder. "Mazer was at my house from midnight until nearly 1 A. M. the night of the killing and I will do anything I can to clear him," Streitenberger said.

Cheyenne, Wyo., Aug. 18.—(UP)—Incomplete returns from Tuesday's primary today indicate that Frank C. Emerson, state engineer, will receive the republican nomination for governor in Wyoming and oppose Gov. Nellie Taylor Ross, democrat, the nation's first woman governor. In the general election, Gov. Ross was unopposed in the primary.

The count last night gave Emerson 4,890 votes and Frank E. Lucas, secretary of state, and his closest competitor, 3,418.

STATE CHURCH'S LOYALTY TO THE GOVERNMENT

EPISCOPATE OF MEXICO SENDS LETTER TO PRESIDENT CALLES

HOPE INCOMING CONGRESS MAY MODIFY RELIGIOUS SITUATION

By A. W. FOLGER (United Press Staff Correspondent)

Mexico City, Aug. 18.—It has been confirmed that the Episcopate has sent a letter to President Calles expressing the church's loyalty to the government and the hope that the incoming congress may find a legal means to modify the present religious situation.

The disclosure follows conferences of the Episcopate committee looking toward a plan of mediation in the religious controversy.

Earlier in the day Bishop Pasqual Diaz of Tabasco, spokesman for the Episcopate, had told the United Press that the Episcopate was studying plans on which a proposition to the government would be based, but said that the Episcopate would insist that the rights of the church must be recognized along lines previously laid down.

His declaration was the first sign that higher churchmen were still concerned with mediation plans.

Prior to confirmation of the fact that a letter has actually been sent to President Calles, the opinion was expressed by observers here that there was little possibility of an accord as long as the government was occupied with threats of revolution and the church remained adamant in its demands that all its rights be restored.

The situation is complicated by the approaching opening of congress and the possibility that organized labor—the avowed enemy of the church—may dominate at least the chamber.

Dispatches from Durango quoted incoming passengers and train crews as saying that there has been a conflict between troops and the populace in the town of Chalchihuites, state of Zacatecas. It was said reinforcements were sent to the town.

Details are lacking.

While it is held in some quarters that the conspiracy against the government believed crushed Sunday, was not serious, troop movements continued from the capital, evidence that the government is taking no chances of outbreaks in the provinces.

Twelve of the conspirators arrested Sunday have been released, with fines of $150 apiece. The leaders, however, are still held for trial.

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 18.—With 115 of their followers arraigned and ordered to furnish $1,000 bond each for their appearance at preliminary hearings Sept. 6, Gen. Enrique Estrada and Aurelio Sepulveda, recognized as leaders of abortive revolution against Mexico, were to face U. S. Commissioner Henry O. Ryan today on charges of violating the United States revolutionary laws.

'MAN OF MANY CRIMES' IS TO BE ARRAIGNED

Minneapolis, Minn., Aug. 18.—(UP)—Thomas Johnson, "the man of many crimes," was to be arraigned today to plead to an indictment returned last yesterday by the Hennepin county grand jury charging him with murdering Leonard Erdall, former University of Minnesota student, in a holdup.

Johnson has signed a statement in which he admits to committing 1,716 robberies and burglaries in 44 cities of the United States from San Francisco to New York and Canada to Texas.

"I will confess the rest to the doctor," the statement ended. He was brought here from Seattle where his third attempt to confess the crimes was successful.

INCOME TAX DROVE ST. PAUL MAN TO SUICIDE ATTEMPT

St. Paul, Aug. 18.—(UP)—Because he faced a heavy penalty for having failed to file an income tax return, Joseph Primrock, 55, attempted suicide Tuesday by leaping from the high bridge over the Mississippi. Fishermen rescued him from deep water and at a hospital it was said his injuries were not serious.

Primrock had been summoned before United States internal revenue officers and after promising to make out his return, left. Later he telephoned he was "going to do it." The jump from the bridge occurred shortly afterward.

EDUCATION AS PART OF THE LABOR MOVEMENT

OCCUPIES LARGE PART OF DISCUSSIONS OF STATE FEDERATION

NOW IN CLOSING SESSION OF CONVENTION AT HIBBING

Hibbing, Minn., Aug. 18.—(UP)—Education as it pertains to development of the labor movement occupied a large part of the discussion today on the floor of the closing day's session of the Minnesota Federation of Labor.

Walter Frank, of Minneapolis, charged that discrimination was manifested against sons, daughters and wives of laboring men who attend evening classes conducted by the University of Minnesota. He asked that the federation appoint a committee to investigate the situation.

Miss Dora Kreutzian, of Minneapolis, urged the necessity of economic education and pleaded for the university to offer special classes on labor subjects. William Mahoney, St. Paul labor leader, supported Miss Kreutzian, asserting that where such special education has been attempted, its benefits have been manifest.

Although International Falls also is making an active campaign, indications today were that Winona would be awarded the next convention during the afternoon session.

For one minute today, the union representatives stood silent in tribute to Father J. C. Harrington, of St. Paul, a Catholic priest, who died recently. Father Harrington took an active interest in the labor movement and was beloved by his fellows.

Addresses today were by J. J. Handley, secretary of the Wisconsin Federation of Labor, and President Lewis of the Iowa federation. A greeting from U. S. Senator Henrik Shipstead was read.

A mass of routine reports and resolutions was to be presented to the convention this afternoon.

A warm discussion of the committee report urging organization of the iron ore miners on the Mesaba range featured the closing minutes of the morning session. Despite the passage of a formal resolution calling for organization work on the range, E. G. Hall, of Minneapolis, president of the federation, in an address indicated no funds of the federation could be "wasted" in such an attempt.

Hall declared that he favored spending the labor unions' money "in sections of the state where response and results would be assured." He cited two previous attempts to organize range workers which failed.

The federation adopted a resolution calling for a crime and penal conference to include representatives of all fraternal and labor organizations who would study crime, court procedure and penal administration.

One resolution considered provided that prospective delegates to labor conventions who own homes must prove that the homes were built by at least six trade crafts. It was adopted. The number of labels required on the wearing apparel of delegates was reduced from 12 to 10 because of the inability of union men in smaller towns to purchase enough union made clothing to qualify.

The convention protested the "autocratic action" of the Minneapolis school board in discharging certain faculty members "without hearing." The resolution condemned the majority membership of the board as "un-American and un-democratic."

A proposal to unite the federation and the Farmer-Labor party appeared

REPUBLICANS' HEADQUARTERS CHICAGO-NEW YORK

DEMOCRATS CURTAIL OPERATIONS UNTIL LAST OF PRIMARIES

REPUBLICANS SEEK TO HOLD 70TH CONGRESS FOR ADMINISTRATION

By PAUL R. MALLON (United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, Aug. 18.—The congressional campaign which will determine in November the complexion of congress for the next two years is in full blast.

Republicans are opening campaign headquarters in New York and Chicago this week; mimeograph machines are beginning to turn out campaign statements and within a few days speakers will be dispatched to important states.

Democrats who began the foundation of their organization last spring are curtailing operations temporarily until the last of the primaries are over the middle of next month.

The opening activity of republicans is the first show of concerted fight to hold the 70th congress for the administration.

They have decided to make the battle principally in Kentucky, Maryland, Oklahoma, Missouri, Nevada and Arizona in an effort to hold the republican senate seats in these disputed states. The democrats assert they have a chance also in Massachusetts, Colorado, Illinois, Idaho and Oregon.

The democrats must win nine senate seats to acquire a majority of the upper house. The administration maintains control of the lower house at present by 35 votes over independents and minority parties. It is considered hardly possible that this majority in the lower house can be overthrown in view of primary results to date.

The contest is centering in the senate where 75 per cent of the one-third up for re-election are republicans.

FIRST ALL-METAL AIRSHIP SOON TO BE BUILT BY NAVY

Washington, Aug. 18.—(UP)—Contracts for construction of the first all-metal airship ever built were awarded today by the navy department to the Aircraft Development Corporation of Detroit, a firm with which Edsel Ford is prominently identified. Acting Secretary Warren announced.

The new dirigible, the first of its kind, will cost $300,000 and was provided for in the naval aircraft bill passed by the last congress. The Aircraft Development corporation was the only bidder.

on the convention floor, but was not considered seriously and was defeated. The Union Labor Life Insurance company was endorsed after a heated battle.

Hibbing, Minn., Aug. 17.—(UP)—Labor was committed today to a three-fold plan approved to balk enactment of legislation providing for a state constabulary.

Points of the plan are: 1. Legislation to grant local police state-wide powers. 2. Legislation empowering state highway maintenance employees to make arrests for traffic violations. 3. Legislation making state-owned liability insurance compulsory upon automobile drivers and issued with automobile licenses.

The plan was adopted after a heated two-hour debate. The interim committee of the Minnesota Federation of Labor backed the plan, asserting of the recommendation that maintenance men be given police power in traffic violations that it would checkmate "the demand from the people who are advocating the creation of a state constabulary from a purely public safety point of view."

Rufus J. Rand, Jr., of Minneapolis, new commander of the Minnesota Department of the American Legion, was among the speakers before the convention, tendering greeting from ex-service men, whose paths, he said, paralleled those of labor in many ways.

The convention came to an end today.

MAN IS NOW CENTRAL FIGURE IN THE MELLETT CASE

Cleveland, Aug. 18.—(UP)—Questioning of Louis Mazer, held here on a first degree murder charge for the assassination of Don R. Mellett, Canton Daily News publisher, was resumed today in a second effort to break down his alibi.

Throughout the first day of examination, Mazer, proprietor of a pool hall in Canton's "Jungle," clung desperately to the theory that he was visiting Floyd E. Streitenberger, a policeman friend, at the time of Mellett's murder.

Buffalo, Aug. 18.—Louis Mazer, under arrest in Cleveland in connection with the murder of Don R. Mellett, has an alibi witness here in Detective Floyd E. Streitenberger of Canton.

Streitenberger is a delegate to the fraternal order of police now in session here. He said Mazer, whom he describes as a "bootlegger of no account," is innocent of the murder.

"Mazer was at my house from midnight until nearly 1 A. M. the night of the killing and I will do anything I can to clear him," Streitenberger said.

EMERSON MAY OPPOSE GOV. ROSS

Cheyenne, Wyo., Aug. 18.—(UP)—Incomplete returns from Tuesday's primary today indicate that Frank C. Emerson, state engineer, will receive the republican nomination for governor in Wyoming and oppose Gov. Nellie Taylor Ross, democrat, the nation's first woman governor, in the general election. Gov. Ross was unopposed in the primary.

The count last night gave Emerson 4,890 votes and Frank E. Lucas, secretary of state, and his closest competitor, 3,418.

LIEUT. GOV. NOLAN TO SPEAK AT DULUTH

Duluth, Aug. 18.—(UP)—Lieutenant Governor W. I. Nolan of Minnesota will be the principal speaker Thursday at the fifth annual farmers and merchants picnic at Pike lake. The picnic is sponsored by the Federated Farm clubs of St. Louis county and Duluth business men.

ENGLISH COAL MINE STRUGGLE IS CONSIDERED

London, Aug. 18.—(UP)—Representatives of the miners and mine owners whose differences have kept the pits idle for 110 days have arranged to resume negotiations for industrial peace.

In response to a suggestion by A. J. Cook, secretary of the Miners' federation, the owners' central committee has agreed to meet the miners' representatives tomorrow afternoon.

STATE CHURCH'S LOYALTY TO THE GOVERNMENT

EPISCOPATE OF MEXICO SENDS LETTER TO PRESIDENT CALLES

HOPE INCOMING CONGRESS MAY MODIFY RELIGIOUS SITUATION

By A. W. FOLGER (United Press Staff Correspondent)

Mexico City, Aug. 18.—It has been confirmed that the Episcopate has sent a letter to President Calles expressing the church's loyalty to the government and the hope that the incoming congress may find a legal means to modify the present religious situation.

The disclosure follows conferences of the Episcopate committee looking toward a plan of mediation in the religious controversy.

Earlier in the day Bishop Pasqual Diaz of Tabasco, spokesman for the Episcopate, had told the United Press that the Episcopate was studying plans on which a proposition to the government would be based, but said that the Episcopate would insist that the rights of the church must be recognized along lines previously laid down.

His declaration was the first sign that higher churchmen were still concerned with mediation plans.

Prior to confirmation of the fact that a letter has actually been sent to President Calles, the opinion was expressed by observers here that there was little possibility of an accord as long as the government was occupied with threats of revolution and the church remained adamant in its demands that all its rights be restored.

The situation is complicated by the approaching opening of congress and the possibility that organized labor—the avowed enemy of the church—may dominate at least the chamber.

Dispatches from Durango quoted incoming passengers and train crews as saying that there has been a conflict between troops and the populace in the town of Chalchihuites, state of Zacatecas. It was said reinforcements were sent to the town.

Details are lacking.
While it is held in some quarters that the conspiracy against the government believed crushed Sunday, was not serious, troop movements continued from the capital, evidence that the government is taking no chances of outbreaks in the provinces.

Twelve of the conspirators arrested Sunday have been released, with fines of $150 apiece. The leaders, however, are still held for trial.

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 18.—With 115 of their followers arraigned and ordered to furnish $1,000 bond each for their appearance at preliminary hearings Sept. 6, Gen. Enrique Estrada and Aurelio Sepulveda, recognized as leaders of abortive revolution against Mexico, were to face U. S. Commissioner Henry O. Ryan today on charges of violating the United States revolutionary laws.

'MAN OF MANY CRIMES' IS TO BE ARRAIGNED

Minneapolis, Minn., Aug. 18.—(UP)—Thomas Johnson, "the man of many crimes," was to be arraigned today to plead to an indictment returned late yesterday by the Hennepin county grand jury charging him with murdering Leonard Erdall, former University of Minnesota student, in a holdup.

Johnson has signed a statement in which he admits to committing 1,716 robberies and burglaries in 44 cities of the United States from San Francisco to New York and Canada to Texas.

"I will confess the rest to the doctor," the statement ended. He was brought here from Seattle where his third attempt to confess the crimes was successful.

INCOME TAX DROVE ST. PAUL MAN TO SUICIDE ATTEMPT

St. Paul, Aug. 18.—(UP)—Because he faced a heavy penalty for having failed to file an income tax return, Joseph Primrock, 55, attempted suicide Tuesday by leaping from the high bridge over the Mississippi. Fishermen rescued him from deep water and at a hospital it was said his injuries were not serious.

Primrock had been summoned before United States internal revenue officers and after promising to make out his return, left. Later he telephoned he was "going to do it." The jump from the bridge occurred shortly afterward.

EDUCATION AS PART OF THE LABOR MOVEMENT

OCCUPIES LARGE PART OF DISCUSSIONS OF STATE FEDERATION

NOW IN CLOSING SESSION OF CONVENTION AT HIBBING

Hibbing, Minn., Aug. 18.—(UP)—Education as it pertains to development of the labor movement occupied a large part of the discussion today on the floor of the closing day's session of the Minnesota Federation of Labor.

Walter Frank, of Minneapolis, charged that discrimination was manifested against sons, daughters and wives of laboring men who attend evening classes conducted by the University of Minnesota. He asked that the federation appoint a committee to investigate the situation.

Miss Dora Kreutzian, of Minneapolis, urged the necessity of economic education and pleaded for the university to offer special classes on labor subjects. William Mahoney, St. Paul labor leader, supported Miss Kreutzian, asserting that where such special education has been attempted, its benefits have been manifest.

Although International Falls also is making an active campaign, indications today were that Winona would be awarded the next convention during the afternoon session.

For one minute today, the union representatives stood silent in tribute to Father J. C. Harrington, of St. Paul, a Catholic priest, who died recently. Father Harrington took an active interest in the labor movement and was beloved by his fellows.

Addresses today were by J. J. Handley, secretary of the Wisconsin Federation of Labor, and President Lewis of the Iowa federation. A greeting from U. S. Senator Henrik Shipstead was read.

A mass of routine reports and resolutions was to be presented to the convention this afternoon.

A warm discussion of the committee report urging organization of the iron ore miners on the Mesaba range featured the closing minutes of the morning session. Despite the passage of a formal resolution calling for organization work on the range, E. G. Hall, of Minneapolis, president of the federation, in an address indicated no funds of the federation could be "wasted" in such an attempt.

Hall declared that he favored spending the labor unions' money "in sections of the state where response and results would be assured." He cited two previous attempts to organize range workers which failed.

The federation adopted a resolution calling for a crime and penal conference to include representatives of all fraternal and labor organizations who would study crime, court procedure and penal administration.

One resolution considered provided that prospective delegates to labor conventions who own homes must prove that the homes were built by at least six trade crafts. It was adopted. The number of labels required on the wearing apparel of delegates was reduced from 12 to 10 because of the inability of union men in smaller towns to purchase enough union made clothing to qualify.

The convention protested the "autocratic action" of the Minneapolis school board in discharging certain faculty members "without hearing." The resolution condemned the majority membership of the board as "un-American and undemocratic."

A proposal to unite the federation and the Farmer-Labor party appeared

REPUBLICANS' HEADQUARTERS CHICAGO-NEW YORK

DEMOCRATS CURTAIL OPERATIONS UNTIL LAST OF PRIMARIES

REPUBLICANS SEEK TO HOLD 70TH CONGRESS FOR ADMINISTRATION

By PAUL R. MALLON (United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, Aug. 18.—The congressional campaign which will determine in November the complexion of congress for the next two years is in full blast.

Republicans are opening campaign headquarters in New York and Chicago this week; mimeograph machines are beginning to turn out campaign statements and within a few days speakers will be dispatched to important states.

Democrats who began the foundation of their organization last spring are curtailing operations temporarily until the last of the primaries are over the middle of next month.

The opening activity of republicans is the first show of concerted fight to hold the 70th congress for the administration.

They have decided to make the battle principally in Kentucky, Maryland, Oklahoma, Missouri, Nevada and Arizona in an effort to hold the republican senate seats in these disputed states. The democrats assert they have a chance also in Massachusetts, Colorado, Illinois, Idaho and Oregon.

The democrats must win nine senate seats to acquire a majority of the upper house. The administration maintains control of the lower house at present by 35 votes over independents and minority parties. It is considered hardly possible that this majority in the lower house can be overthrown in view of primary results to date.

The contest is centering in the senate where 75 per cent of the one-third up for re-election are republicans.

FIRST ALL-METAL AIRSHIP SOON TO BE BUILT BY NAVY

Washington, Aug. 18.—(UP)—Contracts for construction of the first all-metal airship ever built were awarded today by the navy department to the Aircraft Development Corporation of Detroit, a firm with which Edsel Ford is prominently identified, Acting Secretary Warren announced.

The new dirigible, the first of its kind, will cost $300,000 and was provided for in the naval aircraft bill passed by the last congress. The Aircraft Development corporation was the only bidder.

on the convention floor, but was not considered seriously and was defeated. The Union Labor Life Insurance company was endorsed after a heated battle.

Hibbing, Minn., Aug. 17.—(UP)—Labor was committed today to a three-fold plan approved to balk enactment of legislation providing for a state constabulary.

Points of the plan are:
1. Legislation to grant local police state-wide powers.
2. Legislation empowering state highway maintenance employees to make arrests for traffic violations.
3. Legislation making state-owned liability insurance compulsory upon automobile drivers and issued with automobile licenses.

The plan was adopted after a heated two-hour debate. The interim committee of the Minnesota Federation of Labor backed the plan, asserting of the recommendation that maintenance men be given police power in traffic violations that it would checkmate "the demand from the people who are advocating the creation of a state constabulary from a purely public safety point of view."

Rufus J. Rand, Jr., of Minneapolis, new commander of the Minnesota department of the American Legion, was among the speakers before the convention, tendering greeting from service men, whose paths, he said, paralleled those of labor in many ways.

The convention came to an end today.

WISCONSIN WETS URGED TO SUPPORT BLAINE CANDIDACY

By J. E. HELFERT

United Press Staff Correspondent

Milwaukee, Aug. 18.—Wisconsin "wets" are urged to support Gov. J. J. Blaine for United States senator, in a statement issued here today by Dr. J. J. Seelman, national vice president of the Association Against the Eighteenth Amendment and president of the Wisconsin division.

"There can be no question as to who the wets should support for United States senator," Dr. Seelman said in his statement.

"Three years ago Gov. Blaine in a public document read before the Wisconsin state legislature declared himself as opposed not only to the iniquitous Volstead act but also opposed to national prohibition and the 18th amendment. He has repeatedly given assistance to the friends of modification, and because of his bold stand has incurred the bitter enmity of the Anti-Saloon league and is being vigorously opposed by them."

In speaking of the candidacy of Sen. Irvine L. Lenroot, Dr. Zolman in his statement said:

"Sen. Lenroot, on the other hand, has a bone dry record, has the open endorsement of the Women's Christian Temperance union, and is being aided in every way by the Anti-Saloon league. We have given him every opportunity to make a frank statement as to his position on our question, but his attitude has continuously been one of evasion.

"His statement that he will be guided by the outcome of a referendum is unsatisfactory, because in the first place it is not yet sure that a referendum will be had and in the second place, it gives no information as to how he personally stands on the question. It is not too late now for Sen. Lenroot to take an unequivocal and bold stand on the prohibition question in favor of modification, and if he does so, he may expect to receive the support of the wets of his wing of the republican party. If he does not do this, however, he cannot hope for the vote of an honest modificationist."

Speaking at Milwaukee in behalf of the re-election of Sen. Irvine L. Lenroot, John Kietzka, former congressman of the fourth Wisconsin district, endorsed the state republican ticket headed by Charles B. Perry, gubernatorial candidate.

Sen. Lenroot in an address at Watertown last night spoke on the world court and today continued his campaign through that section of the state.

His daughter, Mrs. Dorothy Lenroot Black, touring the state in the interest of her father's re-election, is in the northern section of the state this week. Today she speaks at Baldwin, River Falls and Hudson.

Practically the entire La Follette-Blaine-Ekern slate is in Milwaukee today and many of them spoke in different parts of the county last night. Those who spoke included: Gov. Blaine, Herman L. Ekern, Henry A. Huber, Solomon Levitan, John W. Reynolds and Sen. Robert M. La Follette.

Fred R. Zimmerman, republican candidate for the gubernatorial nomination, also spoke in Milwaukee, addressing a number of the members of the "Zimmerman for Governor" club.

OPPOSITION LOOMS FOR WET CANDIDATE

St. Paul, Minn., Aug. 18.—(UP)—Opposition for Melvin J. Maas, "wet" republican candidate for representative in congress from the fourth district, appeared likely today as a result of reliable reports that State Representative Albin S. Pearson, of St. Paul, was considering becoming an independent candidate for congress.

The Minnesota Anti-Saloon League is said to be supporting Pearson who would run as a "dry." Maas piled up a huge majority in the primary.

WISCONSIN WETS
URGED TO SUPPORT
BLAINE CANDIDACY

By J. E. HELPERT
United Press Staff Correspondent
Milwaukee, Aug. 18.—Wisconsin "wets" are urged to support Gov. J. J. Blaine for United States senator, in a statement issued here today by Dr. J. J. Seelman, national vice president of the Association Against the Eighteenth Amendment and president of the Wisconsin division.

"There can be no question as to who the wets should support for United States senator," Dr. Seelman said in his statement.

"Three years ago Gov. Blaine in a public document read before the Wisconsin state legislature declared himself as opposed not only to the iniquitous Volstead act but also opposed to national prohibition and the 18th amendment. He has repeatedly given assistance to the friends of modification, and because of his bold stand has incurred the bitter enmity of the Anti-Saloon league and is being vigorously opposed by them."

In speaking of the candidacy of Sen. Irvine L. Lenroot, Dr. Zolman in his statement said:

"Sen. Lenroot, on the other hand, has a bone dry record, has the open endorsement of the Women's Christian Temperance union, and is being aided in every way by the Anti-Saloon league. We have given him every opportunity to make a frank statement as to his position on our question, but his attitude has continuously been one of evasion.

"His statement that he will be guided by the outcome of a referendum is unsatisfactory, because in the first place it is not yet sure that a referendum will be had and in the second place, it gives no information as to how he personally stands on the question. It is not too late now for Sen. Lenroot to take an unequivocal and bold stand on the prohibition question in favor of modification, and if he does so, he may expect to receive the support of the wets of his wing of the republican party. If he does not do this, however, he cannot hope for the vote of an honest modificationist."

Speaking at Milwaukee in behalf of the re-election of Sen. Irvine L. Lenroot, John Kletzka, former congressman of the fourth Wisconsin district, endorsed the state republican ticket headed by Charles B. Perry, gubernatorial candidate.

Sen. Lenroot in an address at Watertown last night spoke on the world court and today continued his campaign through that section of the state.

His daughter, Mrs. Dorothy Lenroot Black, touring the state in the interest of her father's re-election, is in the northern section of the state this week. Today she speaks at Baldwin, River Falls and Hudson.

Practically the entire La Follette-Blaine-Ekern slate is in Milwaukee today and many of them spoke in different parts of the county last night. Those who spoke included: Gov. Blaine, Herman L. Ekern, Henry A. Hyber, Solomon Levitan, John W. Reynolds and Sen. Robert M. La Follette.

Fred R. Zimmerman, republican candidate for the gubernatorial nomination, also spoke in Milwaukee, addressing a number of the members of the "Zimmerman for Governor" club.

OPPOSITION LOOMS
FOR WET CANDIDATE

St. Paul, Minn., Aug. 18.—(UP)—Opposition for Melvin J. VIEWING LIFE THRU KNOTHOLE

Rev. Earl N. Tompkins, of Fort Dodge, Ia., is Speaker of the Day at Rotary Club

G. W. CHADBOURNE CHAIRMAN

Mrs. Lind Sang Two Splendid Selections, Accompanied by Miss Marion Opsahl

Braierd Rotary yesterday started its schedule of programs arranged by members, who also acted as special chairmen. After President William V. Turcotte got the meeting under way and some new songs were tried out under the direction of Song Leader Alfred Dillan, Dr. R. A. Beise gave a short talk dwelling on the active spirit and general helpfulness shown by Dr. K. H. Hoorn, who is soon to leave the club and take up to his residence in California. As to his attendance record, said Dr. Beise, no one has ever approached such a record as that of Dr. Hoorn, 247 consecutive meetings. He was praised for his healthful optimism and mention was also made of his poetic ability, in fact Dr. Hoorn is the uncrowned poet laureate of the club. At its conclusion he was presented with a token of regard from the Rotarians.

Dr. Beise also brought up the subject matter of signs and the fact that the town of Hibbing has a big one right near Brainerd bearing the doubtful legend of "Hibbing, Gateway to the 10,000 Lakes." The matter was referred to the civic affairs committee.

Special Chairman G. W. Chadbourne then presided and introduced Mrs. Lind, of Brainerd, who sang two beautiful soprano solos. Her accompanist was Miss Marion Opsahl, former pianist of the Rotary club.

Dr. Tompkins, Fort Dodge, Ia., Methodist divine, was then introduced and gave a splendid address. He said he felt perfectly at home in Brainerd and the lakes and woods because he had made this his summer camp for the past nine years.

"Many people," said the doctor, "are content with doing but little in the world and they remind me of the boys at the ball game who are satisfied with the knothole view. With a little more exertion one may buy the high seat in the bleachers and get the full view of the game."

The days of intense commercial competition caused success to break only with the man of larger vision. The man with small vision stayed in the lowlands, while the one who climbed gained the hilltops, the broader horizon and the broader outlook.

"Never be content with your horizon," said the speaker, "the farther you climb, the farther you can see." He urged Rotarians especially to bestir themselves, to translate wonderful principles and mottoes into action, to take that broader view of life and to get away from the practice of viewing things through a knothole.

Secretary Wm. Spencer said the district attendance record of Brainerd last month put the club in fourth position.

President Turcotte mentioned a coming meeting of executives and secretaries of the district and the chairman of that committee, happening to be at the luncheon, extended a personal invitation to Brainerd club to be represented at the gathering.

Visiting Rotarians were: S. O. Hartwell, St. Paul, Superintendent of Schools.

Frank Reislund, Tulsa, Okla., Dentist.

R. E. Black, Wichita, Kan., Office Building Manager.

Ed. Holton, Manhattan, Kan., College.

B. F. Morgan, Clay Center, Kan., Physician.

Fred Durland, Junction City, Kan., Furniture.

Fred U. Davis, Faribault, Physician.

W. R. Murray, Minneapolis, Banking.

"SOME WILD NOTIONS I HAVE KNOWN"

By the REV. ROY L. SMITH, D. D.
Pastor Simpson M. E. Church, Minneapolis

"NOTHING SUCCEEDS LIKE SUCCESS"

On the contrary, there are many things more successful than Success. Good fortune often departs as unceremoniously and unexpectedly as it arrived. No one knows just when the oil well will run dry, when a new invention will wipe out the profits on the old one, when a new railroad, street car line or boulevard will divert trade to someone else.

But there are some things that are eternally good fortune. Friendliness is worth more to a man than a ten per cent dividend. It will sell more goods than low prices, win more cases than eloquent appeals to the jury, convert more sinners than any argument or creed. The hardest man in the world to resist is the friendly one. We can steel ourselves against the clever chap and we can stubbornly refuse to accept the arguments of the efficient one, but we surrender to the friendly man.

Usefulness is worth more than good fortune. The useful man will seldom be without employment. He can do a necessary piece of work a little better than anyone else does—it puts himself on the preferred list. He enjoys the comfortable distinction of having the world bidding for his services. He need not be clever, brilliant, conspicuous or lucky if he is useful. Seek first the virtue of usefulness and other things will be added unto you.

Nothing succeeds like Character. Your character is what you have left after the bank has failed, the crops are ruined, the house is burned and the family has died with the flu. Competition may rob you of your hard won success, but nothing can ever steal from you your good character. We make our character—building it out of circumstances and fashioning it with faith. It is the one thing which the world cannot give us and the one thing which we never get which cannot be taken away from us without our consent.

Truth outlasts Success. John Brown was hanged, Elijah P. Lovejoy was shot down, Lincoln was assassinated—but the government at Washington still lives—slavery is dead. Galileo was imprisoned. Huss was burned at the stake. The Puritans were exiled and the Huguenots were massacred, but the free right of the individual conscience is increasingly recognized.

of a certain degree of formal chic which may be laundered with all the ease of a practical linen or cotton dress.

Amazingly varied both in color and design, tub silks play a part of distinct importance and are chosen by the best dressed women for wear at the resorts. Smart stripes in both wide and narrow effects are seen, as well as tiny checked and bold plaided designs. Other patterns feature a striped border in contrasting or harmonizing colors.

As a rule frocks fashioned of washable silks are extremely simple in effect, often, in fact, almost mannish in silhouette and details.

Plan to Wean Milady From Plain Little Hat

There is an effort, international in its scope, to awaken women to what is described "hat consciousness." In other words, the powers that be at the fount of fashion have decided that the time has come to wean the feminine world away from its allegiance to plain little untrimmed hats for every occasion, and to revive a greater "elegance" in millinery modes.

It will be interesting to watch the reaction of women, for after all, as one fashion authority truthfully said, "it is the women of the smart world who set the fashion and not until they have accepted a mode can it be considered as established."

WANT ADS BRING RESULTS

Printed Chiffon

Evening

So subtle in design and elusive in coloring are the printed chiffons of this season that it is not surprising to find them used for models of a distinctly formal aspect. Almost every house of note in the world of fashion is showing for midsummer printed chiffon dresses for evening, as well as for afternoon. Designers rely upon the beauty of the materials themselves and have not added anything in the way of trimming.

Not a little of the smartness of the new silks may be attributed to the interest of the designs, which depart from stereotyped effects. Frequently large spaces of solid color appear in the printed silks. These look rather odd when the material is viewed in the piece, but the effect when the fabric is plaited or closely gathered and shirred is unusually attractive.

New Tub Silks Launder Like Linen or Cotton

The development of tub silks to their present state of beauty and smartness has added greatly to the interest of summer fashions. These tub silks make it possible to possess frocks of a certain degree of formal chic which may be laundered with all the ease of a practical linen or cotton dress.

Amazingly varied both in color and design, tub silks play a part of distinct importance and are chosen by the best dressed women for wear at the resorts. Smart stripes in both wide and narrow effects are seen, as well as tiny checked and bold plaided designs. Other patterns feature a striped border in contrasting or harmonizing colors.

As a rule frocks fashioned of washable silks are extremely simple in effect, often, in fact, almost mannish in silhouette and details.

Plan to Wean Milady From Plain Little Hat

There is an effort, international in its scope, to awaken women to what is described "hat consciousness." In other words, the powers that be at the fount of fashion have decided that the time has come to wean the feminine world away from its allegiance to plain little untrimmed hats for every occasion, and to revive a greater "elegance" in millinery modes.

It will be interesting to watch the reaction of women, for after all, as one fashion authority truthfully said, "it is the women of the smart world who set the fashion and not until they have accepted a mode can it be considered as established."

VIEWING LIFE THRU KNOTHOLE

Rev. Earl N. Tompkins, of Fort Dodge, Ia., is Speaker of the Day at Rotary Club

G. W. CHADBOURNE CHAIRMAN
Mrs. Lind Sang Two Splendid Selections, Accompanied by Miss Marion Opsahl

Brainerd Rotary yesterday started its schedule of programs arranged by members, who also acted as special chairmen. After President William V. Turcotte got the meeting under way and some new songs were tried out under the direction of Song Leader Alfred Dillan, Dr. R. A. Beise gave a short talk dwelling on the active spirit and general helpfulness shown by Dr. K. H. Hoorn, who is soon to leave the club and take up his residence in California. As to his attendance record, said Dr. Beise, no one has ever approached such a record as that of Dr. Hoorn, 247 consecutive meetings. He was praised for his healthful optimism and mention was also made of his poetic ability, in fact Dr. Hoorn is the uncrowned poet laureate of the club. At its conclusion he was presented with a token of regard from the Rotarians.

Dr. Beise also brought up the subject matter of signs and the fact that the town of Hibbing has a big one right near Brainerd bearing the doubtful legend of "Hibbing, Gateway to the 10,000 Lakes." The matter was referred to the civic affairs committee.

Special Chairman G. W. Chadbourne then presided and introduced Mrs. Lind, of Brainerd, who sang two beautiful soprano solos. Her accompanist was Miss Marion Opsahl, former pianist of the Rotary club.

Dr. Tompkins, Fort Dodge, Ia., Methodist divine, was then introduced and gave a splendid address. He said he felt perfectly at home in Brainerd and the lakes and woods because he had made this his summer camp for the past nine years.

"Many people," said the doctor, "are content with doing but little in the world and they remind me of the boys at the ball game who are satisfied with the knothole view. With a little more exertion one may buy the high seat in the bleachers and get the full view of the game."

The days of intense commercial competition caused success to break only with the man of larger vision. The man with small vision stayed in the lowlands, while the one who climbed gained the hilltops, the broader horizon and the broader outlook.

"Never be content with your horizon," said the speaker, "the farther you climb, the farther you can see." He urged Rotarians especially to bestir themselves, to translate wonderful principles and mottoes into action, to take that broader view of life and to get away from the practice of viewing things through a knothole.

Secretary Wm. Spencer said the district attendance record of Brainerd last month put the club in fourth position.

President Turcotte mentioned a coming meeting of executives and secretaries of the district and the chairman of that committee, happening to be at the luncheon, extended a personal invitation to Brainerd club to be represented at the gathering.

Visiting Rotarians were:
S. O. Hartwell, St. Paul, Superintendent of Schools.

Frank Reising, Tulsa, Okla., Dentist.

R. E. Black, Wichita, Kan., Office Building Manager.

Ed. Holton, Manhattan, Kan., College.

B. F. Morgan, Clay Center, Kan., Physician.

Fred Durland, Junction City, Kan., Furniture.

Scott Thompson, Miami, Okla., Attorney.

Norton Burkholder, Trenton, Mo., Live Stock.

A. H. Lehman, Atchison, Kan., Coffee Roasting.

Ora Simpson, Algona, Ia., Life Insurance.

F. E. Gordon, Macomb, Ill., Stationer.

Robert Brooke, West Liberty, Ia., Lawyer.

Arthur C. Hoffman, Minneapolis, Optometrist.

Royal B. Hovey, Independence, Ia., Chickens.

Harry Horn, Wichita, Kan., Surgeon.

Fred U. Davis, Fairbault, Physician.

W. R. Murray, Minneapolis, Banking.

Phil Sheridan, Rochester, Minn., Clergyman.

J. J. Thomas, Seward, Neb., Lawyer.

Paul Kelly, Dallas, Tex.

Visitors were: Marion Opsahl, Brainerd; Mrs. Lind, Brainerd; Rev. E. N. Tompkins, Ft. Dodge, Ia., (speaker); Mrs. A. H. Lehman, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Ferguson, Wendell Lehman and Mrs. Bishop, Atchison, Kan.; and Congressman Harold Knutson, St. Cloud.

"SOME WILD NOTIONS I HAVE KNOWN"

By the REV. ROY L. SMITH, D. D.
Pastor Simpson M. E. Church, Minneapolis

"NOTHING SUCCEEDS LIKE SUCCESS"

On the contrary, there are many things more successful than Success. Good fortune often departs as unceremoniously and unexpectedly as it arrived. No one knows just when the oil well will run dry, when a new invention will wipe out the profits on the old one, when a new railroad, street car line or boulevard will divert trade to someone else.

But there are some things that are eternally good fortune. Friendliness is worth more to a man than a ten per cent dividend. It will sell more goods than low prices, win more cases than eloquent appeals to the jury, convert more sinners than any argument or creed. The hardest man in the world to resist is the friendly one. We can steel ourselves against the clever chap and we can stubbornly refuse to accept the arguments of the efficient one, but we surrender to the friendly man.

Usefulness is worth more than good fortune. The useful man will seldom be without employment. He can do a necessary piece of work a little better than anyone else does—it puts himself on the preferred list. He enjoys the comfortable distinction of having the world bidding for his services. He need not be clever, brilliant, conspicuous or lucky if he is useful. Seek first the virtue of usefulness and other things will be added unto you.

Nothing succeeds like Character. Your character is what you have left after the bank has failed, the crops are ruined, the house is burned and the family has died with the flu. Competition may rob you of your hard won success, but nothing can ever steal from you your good character. We make our character—building it out of circumstances and fashioning it with faith. It is the one thing which the world cannot give us and the one thing which we ever get which cannot be taken away from us without our consent.

Truth outlasts Success. John Brown was hanged, Elijah P. Lovejoy was shot down, Lincoln was assassinated—but the government at Washington still lives—slavery is dead. Galileo was imprisoned. Huss was burned at the stake. The Puritans were exiled and the Huguenots were massacred, but the free right of the individual conscience is increasingly recognized.

Printed Chiff

Evening

So subtle in design and so elusive in coloring are the printed chiffons of this season that it is not surprising to find them used for models of a distinctly formal aspect. Almost every house of note in the world of fashion is showing for midsummer printed chiffon dresses for evening, as well as for afternoon. Designers rely upon the beauty of the materials themselves and have not added anything in the way of trimming.

Not a little of the smartness of the new silks may be attributed to the interest of the designs, which depart from stereotyped effects. Frequently large spaces of solid color appear in the printed silks. These look rather odd when the material is viewed in the piece, but the effect when the fabric is plaited or closely gathered and shirred is unusually attractive.

A NEWSPAPER'S FAITH

THERE are certain critics of newspapers who apparently have little conception of the work that the newspapers are doing in the world. There was a time (our grandfathers can recall it) when there was comparatively little in the average newspaper to rouse a man from his dreams, make him look with a wide-awake and seeing eye at the world around him, and—think.

This is what the real newspaper does today. It is not greatly bothered by the persons who say that most of the news should be suppressed because it is so "awful." The newspaper which believes in mirroring life as life really is shows greater faith in human nature than the critics—that is all. When they call this or that piece of news "awful," they often mean seductive rather than awful. They wrongly fear that human nature instinctively craves rottenness and that the exposure of a vile career will prove enticing.

It is no more enticing than the picture of an insane asylum is enticing. It shows as nothing else can show how terrible a thing sin is.

Every line of the picture thunders with a power denied to speech. The memory of it is burned into the soul with a quenchless fire. The reader, old or young, serious or gay, can never misunderstand, can never forget. It is a lesson that lasts. It is the truth in flesh and blood—the truth acting itself out before our very eyes in real life.—St. Cloud Daily Times.

TAKING OUT THE BUMPS

LIFE, whether it's the pursuit of business or of love, is full of obstacles and bumps. Reduction of bumps saves wear and tear of constitution and temperament.

It is with real satisfaction that we note the action of the city council which voted to remove the bumps at the intersection of South Sixth and Laurel streets. Traffic has become so dense there that cars are compelled to make a wide sweep of the signal. We of the old home town know the pitfalls of the bumps, but an outsider, concerned with watching his step and signal and general directions, is often taken unaware and gets a double shock to his springs which nearly puts them out of commission.

The city engineer designing that paving years ago had more regard for pedestrians than street traffic, for he hoisted the paving to the level of the curb and made a nice little island at the intersection, bounded by four raised sections of paving and hence all the trouble which will now cost us about $1,200 to remove and repair.

It must be done, however. Completion of our Belle Prairie-Brainerd concrete highway is nearing and in the offing is the big civic celebration to commemorate the work done. We couldn't afford to shake the stuffing out of traffic attempting to negotiate such a shoal of bumps, the only one of its kind in over 200 miles of continuous concrete paving.

DEMOCRATS UNTERRIFIED

"No one who watches politics in Minnesota can fail to register admiration for the Democratic party," says the political editor of the Pioneer Press. "Every two years a group of the 'faithful' get together, raise $10,000 or $15,000 among themselves and start another hopeless campaign. When it is all over and they have lost again, they do not complain.

"This year the Democrats are looking to the future. They discern the imminent demise of the Farmer-Labor party and they would fain be heirs to some of the holdings of that aggregation. Saturday eight men and one woman met at the State Capitol and named a Democratic committee of 50 to conduct another campaign. In contrast to this gathering was a meeting of the Republicans, with 30 in attendance, every state office within their grasp, and a committee of 150, so many names having been suggested that it was feared that the committee might be unwieldy.

"But still the Democrats are unterrified, undefiled and they fade not away."

ABOUT SINCLAIR LEWIS

THE literary editor of the Anoka Herald says that Sinclair Lewis has been spending the summer at Big Pelican lake. "He is accompanied by his Jap valet and his Ego." The "Jap" valet happens to be a native Filipino. We never met his Ego. Sinclair used to be a newspaper man and has had experience on country weeklies and big town dailies and knows the trials and tribulations of both. And when you interview Lewis, of course you want to hear all about him and his books. He is most approachable, and does his best to give you material for a story.

Up here at Brainerd, and out at Pequot and Breezy Point Lodge and all the way up to International Falls where the novelist is visiting the Dahlbergs and the Spanish princess, we all think a lot of Lewis and consider him a real fellow.

WHEN the Yankee baseball team wins, critics give the whole team credit. When it has a slump they blame the manager, Miller Huggins. We saw Huggins in the days when Joe Bush was pitching for him. Miller isn't what you'd call a prepossessing person with a lot of dash and color. He's of the diminutive size.

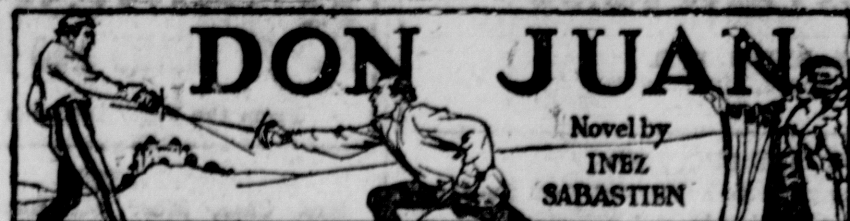

THE other day police spotted a funeral procession at Detroit which showed more than ordinary solemnity and decorum. As the vigilant police advanced, the mourners fled and the hearse and pallbearers' cars were found to be stocked with liquor. The hearse, no doubt, carried a few "dead soldiers."

A ST. CLOUD man has invented a casting bobber termed the most successful on the market. And out in Pillager a native genius is turning out some of the finest lures ever used in our lake region.

To be a crackerjack pugilist these days one must battle courts as well as opponents in the squared circle. Still, all the court fights give so much more publicity to the impending fight.

EVERY community in Crow Wing county is taking renewed interest in its band. Brainerd, however, excels any town of its size in the state, with three bands to its credit.

"Don Juan," screen play by Bess Meredith, starring John Barrymore, is a Warner Bros. picturization of this novel.

SYNOPSIS

Don Juan's disillusioned father warns him: "Destroy women or they will destroy you. Take their love scornfully—and forget!" This advice has made Don Juan the greatest lover of all time. But his gay philosophy is checked in Rome by the disarming innocence of beautiful Adriana Varanesse, with whom he falls madly in love. The affair is dangerous because infamous Lucretia Borgia loves Juan while her kinsman, Donati, covets Adriana. Outraged by Juan's first approach, Adriana avoids him. He humbly contrives to meet her again.

She told herself that she had thrown it at his feet, and that he had not even bothered to pick it up.

In that moment she knew emotions that she had never known before. Never until now had she been really jealous; it had always been far too easy to get what she wanted. Now she felt cold all over, and a curious trembling seemed to run through her whole body. She felt as if something had died within her. Merciless she had been, and inhumanly cruel, but never until now had she been so completely ruled by hatred that she forgot all else.

She had seen murder done at her order and smiled as death claimed her victims; now for an instant she lost all restraint. Gladly would she have killed both Adriana and Juan with her own hands.

And like a knife run through her heart was the knowledge that in spite of his treatment of her, she loved the man who stood there looking down at another woman with his soul in his eyes.

Juan was speaking to Adriana again; his words came clearly to Lucretia through the soft spring air.

"You have given me a new faith," he was saying, and every word was a caress, and the expression in his eyes was like kisses on the girl's drooping eyelids. "Belief in the goodness of women."

A tiny pulse throbbed in her throat. She knew a sudden impulse to run, but a stronger one, to stay, held her. After an instant's silence she spoke, raising her great dark eyes to his face.

"I know that you have been here, for I have seen you," she told him truthfully.

Juan could hardly believe that she was as lovely as the Madonna, he told himself. He could not look into her eyes, could not face the beautiful innocence that looked out from them. Kneeling, he lifted the hem of her dress to his lips and kissed it.

Lucretia stood smiling cruelly, her eyes narrowed.

Looking down at his bent head, Adriana smiled tenderly, as one might smile at a beloved child. She could not understand the devotion that moved him, or appreciate the depths of passion that the sight of her had stirred in him.

When he rose, however, and his expression showed her how greatly moved he was, her eyes filled with tears.

"My soul has been asleep," he said to her, "and you have awakened it."

And the trembling of his voice, the humble, beseeching manner that was his, told her more plainly than any words could have that his heart was in her keeping. Here was no sign of the gallant lover; here stood a man with reverence and worship in his eyes, who adored her, a man who would be ruled by her slightest wish, and who without her must be incomplete forever.

Because of her innocence and unworldliness she could not realize the depth of the devotion that he offered her, but she did know that he was the hero of her most romantic dreams, that the love he offered her was all that she had longed to have come into her life.

They stood there in the quiet garden, amid the flowers pouring their fragrance into the sunlit air, with the Virgin in her blue robe looking down benignly upon them, and they felt as if all the world stood still in that moment, held motionless in its course between the suns of the universe, because they loved each other.

They did not dream that anyone saw them. Had they known that Lucretia Borgia stood in the doorway of the church, looking at them, they would hardly have believed it, because the sunny garden seemed made for them and them alone.

Plan after plan she rejected, finding none of them hideous enough to accomplish the revenge that she must carry out if she was to satisfy the hatred that surged through her. Beside her stood Maia, her lady-in-waiting.

"Did I not tell you, my lady?" she murmured. "You're not seen him of late—and there is the reason why. Will you not believe me now?"

And Lucretia, unwillingly, believed. Yet she turned angrily on Maia, hating her for being the means of making this belief come into being. And she hated herself for having lost her heart to this handsome young Spaniard.

THE STORMING OF THE GATES

This picture is typical of many such scenes enacted daily at the main gates of the Sesqui-Centennial International Exposition in Philadelphia where the 150th anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence is being celebrated. The "shot" was made from outside the gates and shows the long sweep of historic Broad street, the main artery of the exposition. To the left can be seen one of the capitol of the Palace of Liberal Arts and Manufactures which covers nearly eight acres of grounds and which houses some of the finest exhibits ever seen. The Exposition will continue until December 1.

Urging Colonization

The Japanese government will take up the emigration question as one of the most important confronting the country in connection with food and population. Efforts will be made to persuade emigrants to colonize the unopened parts of Hokkaido, Korea and South Sakhalin or find homes in foreign countries where this can be done without provoking opposition, as Brazil. The government has found out in the light of past experience that those who engage in agricultural pursuits make the best colonizers and married couples among them are preferable for the purpose.—Exchange.

Too Patriotic

I had just joined a patriotic society and longed to prove myself worthy. One day I saw that neighbors across the street were flying a big flag, so, sorry to be remiss, I promptly displayed my own fine new one.

Then I saw old men laboriously climbing the neighbor's steps, under the flying emblem, but looking in bewilderment at mine. Referring to the local paper I found they were attending a social gathering of the G. A. R. My flag ceased to fly.—Exchange.

Dancing and Beefsteak

It has been estimated that if the energy which a person puts into a Charleston dance were employed in some gainful occupation, the compensation would suffice to support an average family on beefsteak and onions for from three to four days.

Aviators to Uncover Gold

It is confidently expected that army aviators will be the means of revealing rich deposits of gold in the Philippines, which is said to exist in a part of the island of Mindoro which has long defied the efforts of explorers. It is located in a mountain peak, and the few trails leading into it are hard and dangerous. Besides this the country is infested with serpents and ferocious animals. The name is really "Mina de oro," meaning gold country, and it is thought that aviation will open up a way into its interior which could not be accomplished in any other manner.

Rooster's Big Appetite

A seven days' wonder among Spangon Bay (Wika) folk was a rooster that had eaten 936 kernels of corn at a meal. E. G. Drudger, a grocer in the neighboring town of Ellsworth, had a big rooster that he believed could beat that record and invited his customers to guess how many kernels it would eat. They gave him their estimates, the rooster started eating and in 20 minutes had consumed 1,450 kernels, by actual count.

Men had adored her, had given their lives for her, gladly, triumphantly. Yet now she knew that never had any man loved her as this gallant young Spaniard loved the girl who stood there lifting innocent, shining eyes to his.

"She cannot love him as I do," Lucretia told herself bitterly. "Never could she learn the ways of love as I know them. It is I who am meant for him—and I shall have him!"

And standing there in the shadows, like a venomous snake that soon will strike, she watched the two lovers who stood in the sunlight, looking at each other as if the world held nothing but their love.

After a moment Adriana tore her gaze from his. She must go—she wanted to stay, but could tarry no longer. Her father would be anxious about her even now. Since the night of the Borgia's ball, and Donat's vicious attack, her father had felt that Rome was no safe place for him and his daughter.

She held out one slender hand to Juan, with the sweet, innocent smile of a child for a beloved one. Juan, bending reverently over it, told himself that never before had he met anyone so pure of heart. He would not have believed that such a woman could exist, until he met her.

He would teach her what the love of a man for a woman could be, its strength, its beauty, its tenderness. He would be gentle and kind with her, as he had never been before. He longed to make himself over for her sake, to cleanse himself of every evil thought that had ever crossed his mind. He hated the memory of the women to whom he had pretended to make love in the past, and hoped that she could forgive him the paltering of the past, because she and his love for her had made him a new man, having nothing in common with the one who had been known as the greatest lover in all Europe.

And so he stood watching her as she walked away from him, worshipping her, envying the path along which she walked because her feet touched it, envying the nodding flowers because their fragrant petals brushed her skirts as she passed.

Summer Jewelry in Blue and Gray

Combination of Colors Used in Necklace, Bracelet, Earrings, Brooch.

Blue and gray form a lovely combination for summer jewelry in sets consisting of necklace, bracelet, earrings and brooch. All are not worn at the same time; the necklace is usually worn with the bracelet or earrings, or the brooch with earrings or bracelet. The color scheme is achieved by making the chains and fancy motifs of silver, and the stone settings of sapphires. When the motif is of floral theme the leaves and surrounding sprays are of tinted enamel.

Another attractive necklace for wear with any of the chiffon or lace evening dresses is the two-tone pearl necklace blending pink and white pearls of graduated sizes. These necklaces are quite long and may be worn looped about the throat in several strands with the ends tied in front or knotted and allowed to hang behind. The back knot is preferred with very low-cut gowns which are cut somewhat higher in front. With these necklaces, too, are earrings and bracelets to match.

A circular spider-web pin enclosed within a rim of colored enamel is so light and frail looking that it could not be worn on anything but the lightest materials. The web is of fine gold threads, the spider's head and back of colored stones. Some of the pins add an occasional small pearl to a more realistic effect.

In keeping with the vogue for old-fashioned jewelry is the revival of the small fan for dancing or theater. These fans range in color from the faintest tints and pastel shades to deep rich colorings and the designs range from copies of old French prints to elaborate and much-bespangled Spanish affairs. All have hand-carved ivory handles and sticks which serve to enhance the rare old laces and the hand-painted gossamers used so much in fans of this type.

Imitation mother-of-pearl is used for the panel sections of the almost square handbags. The panels are bound with colored kidskin which forms the body of the bag. All the pastel shades and brighter colors are combined with this new composition and make the bag ideal for use with any of the summer frocks. Another feature of the bag is its clasp lock. In these bags the linings match the leather.

Sea shells supply the theme for the somewhat fan-shaped bags of silk crepe in either printed designs or of solid colors. Here, too, is seen the vogue for sterling silver in the fancy frames and chain handles. All are lined with silk in contrasting shade and are fitted with purse and mirror. The fan and shell ideas in this bag are made possible through the material being futed and caught very lightly together at the mounting.

White and tinted pearls woven together by fine silk cording make attractive and useful evening bags of the draw-string top style. They are just big enough to carry the necessary articles. Some of them are finished off at the bottom by a fringe of the pearls and others with alternating loops. The linings of soft silk match the pearls.

Two-Piece Frock Persists

It is a year since the two-piece frock made its appearance, and as yet there is no sign that its prestige has dimmed, although in certain quarters it is rumored that fall will bring about a change.

The Wyckliffe Silencer

"MISERY! Misery!! Mis-er-ee!! Consolation's on tap! Come and get it! Come get it!" Jincy shrieked, twinkling her wickedest at Roland, who sat blushing and twisting in saddle beside the Barton stile. The blush was mainly rooted in anger—he knew how bitterly Missouri hated the way Jincy played with her name. Indeed, he was near to hating Jincy herself, whole and several—she was forever popping in when and where she had no business—three several times she had balked his set and steadfast purpose to propose to her cousin, Missouri wasn't coming—rather he saw her skittering away down the back of the garden. The sight was the last straw. Ruthlessly, but masking his design with a serious pretense, he leaned over, saying: "Miss Jincy—d'you want to make some easy money?"

"Lead me to it—if it is also nice money," Jincy piped gaily. "Just sing out how much!—and how long do I work for it?"

"Fifty dollars—for wearing something nice and clean, that don't weigh an ounce nor won't burn nor scratch—fast color, and smells like garden flowers—for well, maybe a matter of three hours—from eight o'clock till eleven—"

Three nights later he came to the Barton place close upon eight o'clock, accompanied by Bug Wilson, at sight of whom Jincy's heart went pit-a-pat. "Fetch him to have an outside witness to the contract," Roland explained, as he pulled out a legal-looking document, and thrust it in her hand, adding: "Read it! Slow and easy. Always do that before you sign."

Jincy shook her head, pushed the paper away, and said shrilly: "Bother! Start the show—if you're going to."

Roland nodded, and read in his best voice the contract witnessing that Jeremiah Barton—Jincy winced at the name—covenanted and agreed, in consideration of fifty dollars, gold in hand, to wear without protest or violence an ornament to be provided by Roland Wyckliffe, warranted safe, elegant, decorative and highly convenient. Laughter half drowned his words, but the signing went forward, Jincy writing as boldly as Roland himself. Bug signed, chuckling hard, Missouri pale, half frightened. Jincy sat down upon the sofa, shut her eyes, and waited—somehow holding her breath.

What was coming? A bustle maybe—or even a scoop-bonnet—she had seen a huge one cherished by Roland's grandmother. Catlike, Roland came behind her—something silken, scented, was laid over her mouth, its edges pressed down hard upon her face.

Jincy wanted wildly to run away. Pride forbade—she had given her word. Besides, Roland had said, settling Bug at her elbow, "On guard, son! Find your fiddle—it's generally parked here—and give us the best you've got while I do some serious talking. Between tunes you can talk for yourself—remember, that's the bargain—and you'll never again have as good a chance."

Bug obeyed, grinning happily. He had music in his soul, in his fingertips, if he didn't know a note. Playing, his eyes said things to the angry girl beside him. Between tunes his lips repeated: "I know you love me—you'd say it now—if you could. Aren't you thinkin' 'Yes'—to have it ready when you get your tongue back?"

Jincy listened, her hands clenching hysterically. How she held herself to even half-sane consciousness she never quite understood. She saw Roland and Missouri at the farthest window, she looking into the moonlit world, his eyes devouring her face. A face transfigured now—rose-flushed, all the droop gone from about the lips that had taken on suddenly a wholesome, rich scarlet. Inaction became unbearable—she caught Bug's arm, pointed to the mantel mirror and made to rise. He led her where she pleased to go—so she saw her torment—a puckered something of scarlet silk, shaped roughly like an exaggerated mouth, which gave her the countenance of a fury or a vampire.

She cried muffledly: "Take it—off! Off! It's killing me!" Her words were indistinguishable—but her look translated them. At Bug's terrified cry Roland and Missouri rushed to them. Roland himself loosed the red false mouth, and supported Jincy to the window, saying apologetically: "Child, I never dreamed you'd take the joke this way. I'm sorry it upset you—but still not that I did the thing I had to. You see, I've had my sayout with Missouri—she's made me so happy. I love all the world—nearly."

"But you still hate me! I know it," Jincy cried vindictively, "else you wouldn't have let Bug—"

"Did he dare say things you didn't want to hear?" from Roland sternly. Jincy shook her head hard, but murmured: "Think of listening to courting when you can't talk back."

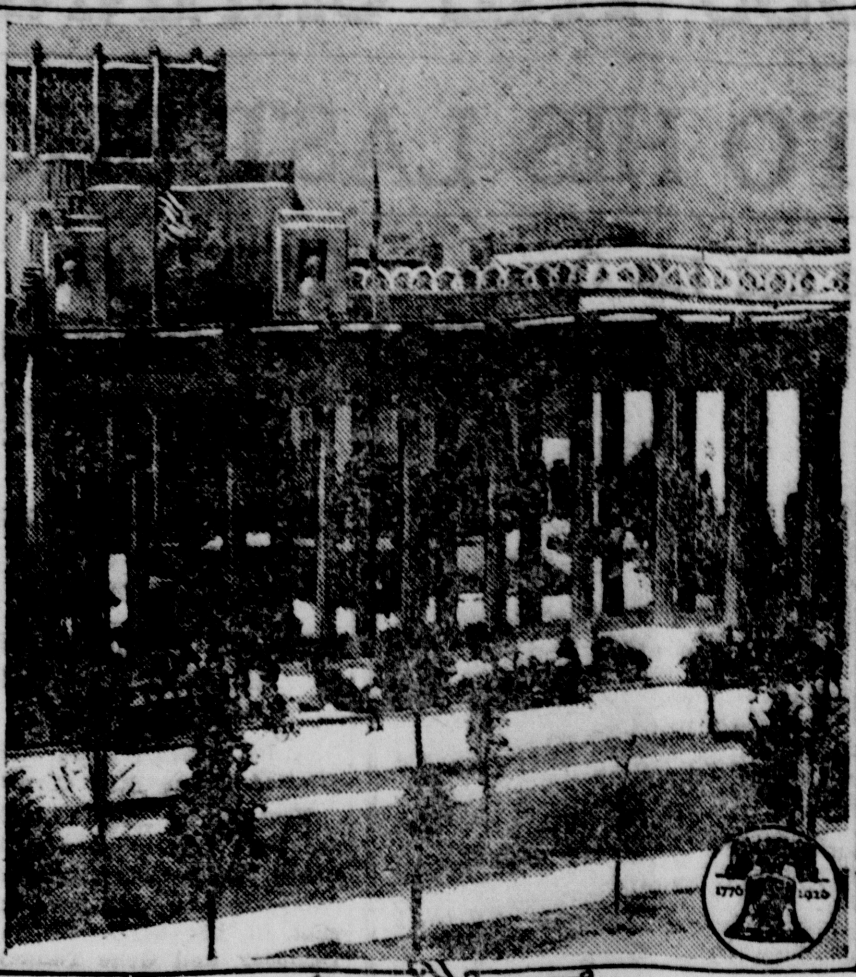

"That must have been hard," from Roland contritely—then over his shoulder, "Bug, you scoundrel, come here and listen to what Jincy thinks your impudence deserves!"

Bug came like a very small boy—head drooped, hands before his eyes. Jincy swept them down, saying with a stamp of her foot: "I hate you. But I do reckon you had to take your only chance."

Here is the Keystone State's building at the great Sesqui-Centennial International Exposition at Philadelphia, celebrating 150 years of American Independence. In this huge structure Pennsylvania is displaying her progress from the arrival of Penn to the present day. The building is one of the handsomest on the big exposition grounds and has proved a rendezvous for hundreds of thousands of people who have come from near and far to see the magnificent exhibits established by forty-three of the leading nations of the world. The Exposition continues until December 1.

Lace, Frills, Synonym for Extreme Femininity

An increasing vogue for lace moves Lucien Lelong to comment that there is probably no chapter in the history of dress more interesting than that of the evolution of this article of adornment. In the minds of people today the word lace, he points out, in conjunction with the word frills, stands as a synonym for extreme femininity. And yet he would call attention to the fact that until very modern times lace was essentially a masculine perquisite primarily an adjunct to male dress. Modern womanhood has simply gone out and captured lace; for it is one of man's lost provinces.

Until as late as 100 years ago lace still belonged to man. Strangely enough, it was a soldier, and one of the greatest of all soldiers—Napoleon—who tried to restore lace to its old supremacy in fashionable male attire by himself setting the style for its use in court costumes. But while Napoleon could conquer empires and armies, his assault upon the citadel of femininity conspicuously failed. His lace edict did not get far; and after the disappearance of Napoleon, lace disappeared from men's attire with finality.

Boutonnieres of Ribbon Is in Fashion Picture

Boutonnieres of ribbon are fashionable. There are exquisite roses of ribbon that look surprisingly realistic after the air-brush tinting which is applied when the rose is finished.

A bright-colored ribbon boutonniere on the lapel and a matching handkerchief peeking out from under the flap of the envelope bag give a smart touch to the tailored suit.

For the dinner or dance frocks the chiffon flower perched on the left shoulder is favored. With a colored dress this flower should match—many good dressers, however, prefer the black flower for contrast.

A red or chanel blue flower seems to be the choice to wear with the black gown.

Beaded Gowns Are More Fascinating Than Ever

The beaded gown carries on, more fascinating than ever in its summer version. The most fragile materials—chiffon, georgette, marquisette—are patterned over with beads, crystals, colored glass, rhinestones or paillettes with the new glittering silver spangles. White made dazzling with these high lights is very fashionable. Black chiffon, heavily beaded and fringed with jet, is another variant that is always a delight, and some amusing novelties in moonlight effect with iridescent beads on white are shown. These gowns are all especially designed and put together according to a pattern altogether different from the beaded gown that has been with us for a very long time.

ONLY THEORIES FOR CHANGE IN CLIMATE

Scientific Explanation of Subject Is Vague.

Only in the great reaches of geologic time have we certain proof of alterations in climate. When our American coal was being made, Greenland was a warm place; coral flourished on its shores. By the close of that era an ice sheet had covered all Greenland and had extended so far south that its tip was over the place where Boston now is.

In the next era New England warmed up. There were alterations of icy periods and temperate periods. Only 50,000 years ago, at a time when man had become an implement maker, all the northern part of our country was under ice. Our climate has decidedly improved since then.

The causes of these changes of climate have been the subject of prolonged investigation and speculation. One elaborate theory was based on the variation of the amount of carbon dioxide in the air. No doubt the varying configurations of land and water have played their parts.

The most simple and persuasive explanation yet advanced is that offered by Humphreys in his "Physics of the Air." He presents a table of the exceptionally cold years since 1750 and shows that in most cases (possibly in all) the low temperature followed an unusual volcanic eruption. In 1783 there was an eruption of Asama in Japan, "the most frightful on record," the three following years were very cold over the whole earth.

In 1812 came the eruption of Tomboro, "very great," followed by four cold years; 1816 has passed into American history as "the year without a summer," the most peculiar one in the annals of weather, when hardly any crops matured north of the Potomac river.

These two freakish periods were sufficient to bring down the average of the temperature for the half century somewhat; but they were not items of climate. They were times of a peculiar and temporary condition.

The condition was that the atmosphere over the whole earth carried an excess of dust particles—just as after the Krakatoa eruption of 1883 the dust was apparent for three years and caused peculiar effects in the sky over Europe and America. Dust can cause great change in the earth's temperature because it offers more impediment to the heat rays coming to the earth than it offers to the longer heat rays that are reflected from the earth.

Only a little more dust than came from Krakatoa, if it were renewed in the air for a term of years, would reduce the temperature of the globe sufficiently to bring an ice sheet down over Canada.

"So," asks Mr. Humphreys, "why may it not be that long continued volcanic activity at different epochs of geologic history has been the cause of alterations in climate?" No negative answer has yet been stated convincingly.

The cause of climatic change is only conjectural. The fact that there have been changes is known by the indubitable hieroglyphics which the glaciers traced. But in our human records there is no proof of change. Our climate has been as constant as the weather has been erratic.—Henshaw Ward in Harper's Magazine.

Fairy Story Up-to-Date

At the last stroke of twelve Cinderella gazed about her. Everything was changed. Her coach was a pumpkin; her prancing steeds, mice; and her flowering romance, gone-to-seed reality.

Realizing vaguely that something had gone terribly wrong, she glanced at what a moment before had been a bejeweled wrist-watch and then at the town clock high above the roofs. Womanlike, she saw her mistake too late.

"Goodness, gracious, Godmother!" she explained, as she resumed her station in the chimney corner; "how was I to know that that black town was 'ing under daylight-saving time?"

Contributed Poem

A farmer had a seeder for sowing of his seed; 'twas a seeder made of cedar and I asked him: "Is there seed of a seeder made of cedar?" and he answered: "Yes, indeed. I have never seed a seeder, sir, that I'd concede the speed to exceed a cedar seeder for the seedin' of the seed."—Boston Transcript.

FASHIONS

By HEDDA HOYT

New York, Aug. 18.—(UP)—The flower corsage matches the frock in color and material if its up-to-the-minute. Most of the Mid-Summer and early Fall frocks carry their own corsages and very huge petaled affairs they are! Huge chrysanthemums and dahlias of chiffon, silk crepe or even velvet are attached to the left shoulder of each dress. Sports frocks as well as dressy models sponsor the flower idea. For instance, a claret-colored crepe de chene jumper frock has a huge claret-colored chrysanthemum perched flat against the shoulder. In Paris, the flower cannot be too huge.

Have you seen the black satin evening slippers trimmed with gold leather appliques? If not, you will see them in numbers before long.

Black chiffon handkerchiefs edged with wide ecru silk lace are being carried with the new black satin dresses.

Newer shoes extend well up over the instep. One-strap ideas prevail for day wear.

High square crowns are found on some of the new felt millinery models from Paris. These crowns are difficult to wear, however, and none save the round or oval-faced woman should attempt them.

Velvet ribbon trims many sheer georgette frocks of dressy type this season. Two-toned ribbon of a darker shade than the frock is suggested.

Shirring will add a decorative touch to the early Fall frocks. It is introduced as a band effect about the hips, as cuffs, vests or yokes.

Blond shoes continue to rule for day as well as evening wear. Blond satin is preferred for evening while kid is considered most suitable for street wear.

Fashionable women are adopting cotton frocks for warm days. Dark silk dresses, such as we have seen previous seasons are not being worn since the pastel frock rules during the Summer months. Voiles and linens are quite as conspicuous as crepe de chenes on Fifth Avenue. Sunburnt-colored stockings are those most popular at nearby resorts. For evening wear, lighter blond tones prevail.

FREE-FOR-ALL RACE ACROSS THE CHANNEL

DEFINITE STEPS TAKEN TO PLAN RACE DETAILS

GERTRUDE EDERLE WILLING TO

LILLIAN CANNON'S FRIENDS ARE WILLING TO WAGER
$5,000

New York, Aug. 18.—(UP)—Definite steps were taken today to bring about an international free-for-all race for swimmers across the English Channel.

After Gertrude Ederle's reported announcement that she would be willing to engage in such a race for a $20,000 purse against any swimmer in the world, Fred S. Ferguson, president of the Newspaper Enterprise Association, announced that his organization and the Scripps-Howard newspapers were ready to contribute $5,000 to such a purse in behalf of Miss Lillian Cannon of Baltimore, who is now awaiting her chance to swim the channel.

Ferguson cabled to London to determine whether the Westminster Gazette and Lord Riddell, both interested in channel swimming, would be willing to make similar contributions on behalf of possible British entrants.

PIRATES' ROW BASED ON NERVES

PRES. HEYDLER DECREES PUN-ISHMENT OF PLAYERS TO STAND

Pittsburgh, Pa., Aug. 18.—(UP)—The troubles on the Pittsburgh ball club have been charged off by President Heydler of the National league as a case of nerves—that the punishment of the players still stands.

Heydler spent yesterday here reviewing the case which had its climax when Max Carey was suspended, waivers asked on him, and Babe Adams and Carson Bigbee were unconditionally released. They were charged with having been leaders in circulation of a Round Robin demanding removal of Fred Clarke from the Pirate bench.

After hearing all sides of the case, including the stories of the players and of Clarke, Manager McKechnie and Samuel Dreyfuss, club treasurer, Heydler made his views public.

He said the thing seemed to have been due to the mistaken zeal of players whose nerves were taut from the strain of a hard pennant race and that there was no conspiracy involved.

"I cannot go back on the right of the officials of a league club to release, suspend or ask waivers on any of its players," Heydler said. "Nor would I wish to do so if I had the right."

"It is because of my firm belief in justice that I do not go on record to declare that these players, should they leave the club, will do so with a good name."

Watching the Scoreboard

Yesterday's Hero—Guy Bush, Chicago Cubs pitcher, who blanked the New York Giants 7 to 0, and allowed only two New Yorkers to reach first base.

The Athletics moved up two games toward second place by taking both ends of a doubleheader from the Cleveland Indians, 9 to 4 and 6 to 4.

The Boston Red Sox thumped the St. Louis Browns twice. Helmach held the Browns to six hits to win the first game 5 to 1 and Welzer gave them but five singles in the second to win 4 to 0.

Southworth's two homers helped the St. Louis Cardinals to beat the Brooklyn Dodgers, 8 to 7.

The Chicago White Sox defeated the New York Yankees 5 to 3. The game was called at the end of the fifth when rain soaked the field.

Hitting Dean and Willoughby hard the Cincinnati Reds won an easy victory from the Phillies 8 to 2.

While the leading Colonels were being held to a tie by the Blues, the Brewers won from the Indians 11 to 7, and gained again on the association leaders. The Brewer victory gave them a clean sweep of the series with the Tribesmen.

After having played 10 innings with the score tied 3 and 3, the game between Kansas City and Louisville was called in order to permit the Colonels to catch a train.

Scoring five runs in the tenth in-ning the Hens won from the Millers 6 to 1.

Although outbitt, the Senators bunched two hits and a hit batsman in the third inning for two runs and defeated the Saints in the final game of the series 2 to 0.

FRANK WALSH, MEDAL SCORE 150, LEADS THE FIELD

WISCONSIN OPEN GOLF TOURNA-
KENOSHA

HIGH WIND IS SWEEPING THE
WELL BUNKERED
COURSE

By CHARLES E. AHRENS
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Kenosha, Country Club, Kenosha, Wis., Aug. 18.—Frank Walsh, Appleton professional, with a medal score of 150 for thirty-six holes today led the field in the Wisconsin open golf tournament being staged here.

With a high wind sweeping the well bunkered course, Walsh played a sensational game and turned in two rounds of 75 for his total. As the result of his excellent showing during the first day, Walsh is given an even chance to cop the title now held by Jack Blakeslee, Kenosha. Walsh went out in 36 on the first nine and came back in 39. On the second nine he had a beautiful 35 going out, but got into a little trouble coming back and turned in a 40. Blakeslee had 76 for his first eighteen holes and 76 for his second round.

Francis Gallett of the Blue Mound Country club is third in line with 154.

The high wind, which gave the golfers a great deal of trouble and time and again carried what would have been fairly straight drives into the rough, resulted in a number of the entries dropping out. Practically all of them finished the first 18 holes, but the second round saw a large number dropping by the wayside. Included in this lot were Bim Lovekin, Woodmont star, who was a favorite to win; Phil Senborn, Madison; Alex Wilmut, Milwaukee; Ray Anderson, Racine; Robert Gittins, Green Bay; Billy Eldt, Tuckaway and Guy Martin.

While the wind played its part in the high scores, poor putting on the unusually fast and tricky greens also took its toll. With the field narrowed considerably after a large number dropped by the wayside during the first day's play, the entrants are expected to get under way some time shortly after nine o'clock today for the final thirty-six holes.

One of the surprising upsets of the tourney yesterday was the showing of Buddy Russell, Milwaukee Country club star. After having turned in a 75 for the first round, tying him with Walsh and Gallett, Russell went all to pieces in the afternoon and scored 188 for a total of 163.

'LITTLE STAR' WINS INTERNATIONAL RACE

Ottawa, Ont., Aug. 18.—(UP)—"Little Star," owned by the Waugh Brothers of Peoria, Ill., returned the Rudder international seaplane trophy to the United States after three days of races. The winner covered the 18-mile course in 31 minutes and 45 seconds.

"Miss Quincy" of New York was second, 9 seconds behind the western boat, and "Baby Vagabond" of Montreal, third. "Miss Brown," of Ottawa, last year's winner, had difficulty in getting under way in the final heat and finished fifth.

WAYS OF PROMOTER IN DEMP-
SEY-TUNNEY BATTLE
HARD LINES

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

New York, Aug. 18.—Tex Rickard isn't one to admit that he's licked, but he was willing to concede today that he was down to his last shot in his battle to match Jack Dempsey and Gene Tunney for the world heavyweight championship.

After trying every peaceful method at his disposal to overcome the objections of the New York license committee, Rickard was forced to go to court with a mandamus suit to try to force the committee to grant a license to the champion.

"I don't like these court proceedings," Rickard said today, "but there was nothing left to do. There is more at stake than the Dempsey-Tunney fight. I've got a lot of money invested in the boxing business and I have to defend my legal rights."

Rickard admitted that he was none too optimistic even after he had been told that William Muldoon, senior member of the boxing commission, had said: "We're not beaten yet. The fight is not off."

James A. Farley, chairman of the commission, who has led what so far has been a successful fight to protect the challenge of Harry Wills, was as confident as Muldoon.

"Well, do you still think they are going to fight?" Farley asked with a loud laugh today. "I'll give you my opinion—and it's only an opinion—they're not."

Rickard said he would proceed with his plans for the fight pending the decision of the courts.

"I'm forced to go ahead now," he said. "I've got a lot of money invested. If the decision goes against us, I will not drop much more than I already have put into the preliminary arrangements."

YACHT FUGITIVE SAILS TO VICTORY

L. G. CARPENTER AT THE HELM
OF THE CLASS A.
BOAT

Oshkosh, Wis., Aug. 18.—(UP)—With L. G. Carpenter at the helm, the yacht Fugitive of the Minnetonka Yacht club, sailed to victory in the Class A. race of the Inland Lakes Yachting Association regatta here Tuesday afternoon.

The time was 2:29:20 and it was only the superior skippering of Carpenter that carried the Minnetonka yacht to victory.

John Buckstaff, skippering the Haywire of the local yacht club, was second, finishing in 2:32:00 and was followed thirty-three seconds later by the Shadow, Neenah yacht, with Jack Kimberly skippering.

The Fugitive took the lead at the start and stayed out in front during most of the six two-mile legs.

The races were off without mishap. Racing will continue today, smaller boats being on the program for the morning and the Class A. event again scheduled for this afternoon. The breeze was not as strong as yesterday, but sufficiently strong to permit excellent sailing today.

Helen Wills Has No Desire to Turn Professional in Tennis

Chicago, Aug. 18.—(UP)—Charles C. Pyle's pile of cash for tennis players holds no interest for Helen Wills, she said as she passed through Chicago, en route to her home at Berkeley, Calif., where she will re-enter the University of California.

"I have not been approached by Mr. Pyle but amateur tennis and my work at college keeps me busy now," she said. "I have no desire to turn professional," she added emphatically. She said she would not play Suzanne Lenglen when the French star tours this country, but might play her in France in two years.

Ferguson cabled to London to determine whether the Westminster Gazette and Lord Riddell, both interested in channel swimming, would be willing to make similar contributions on behalf of possible British entrants.

PIRATES' ROW BASED ON NERVES

PRES. HEYDLER DECREES PUNISHMENT OF PLAYERS TO STAND

Pittsburgh, Pa., Aug. 18.—(UP)—The troubles on the Pittsburgh ball club have been charged off by President Heydler of the National league as a case of nerves—that the punishment of the players still stands.

Heydler spent yesterday here reviewing the case which had its climax when Max Carey was suspended, waivers asked on him, and Babe Adams and Carson Bigbee were unconditionally released. They were charged with having been leaders in circulation of a Round Robin demanding removal of Fred Clarke from the Pirate bench.

After hearing all sides of the case, including the stories of the players and of Clarke, Manager McKechnie and Samuel Dreyfuss, club treasurer, Heydler made his views public.

He said the thing seemed to have been due to the mistaken zeal of players whose nerves were taut from the strain of a hard pennant race and that there was no conspiracy involved.

"I cannot go back on the right of the officials of a league club to release, suspend or ask waivers on any of its players," Heydler said. "Nor would I wish to do so if I had the right."

"It is because of my firm belief in justice that I do not go on record to declare that these players, should they leave the club, will do so with a good name."

Watching the Scoreboard

Yesterday's Hero—Guy Bush, Chicago Cubs pitcher, who blanked the New York Giants 7 to 0, and allowed only two New Yorkers to reach first base.

The Athletics moved up two games toward second place by taking both ends of a doubleheader from the Cleveland Indians, 9 to 4 and 6 to 4. The Boston Red Sox thumped the St. Louis Browns twice. Heimach held the Browns to six hits to win the first game 5 to 1 and Welzer gave them but five singles in the second to win 4 to 0.

Southworth's two homers helped the St. Louis Cardinals to beat the Brooklyn Dodgers, 8 to 7.

The Chicago White Sox defeated the New York Yankees 5 to 3. The game was called at the end of the fifth when rain soaked the field.

Hitting Dean and Willoughby hard the Cincinnati Reds won an easy victory from the Phillies 8 to 2.

While the leading Colonels were being held to a tie by the Blues, the Brewers won from the Indians 11 to 7, and gained again on the association leaders. The Brewer victory gave them a clean sweep of the series with the Tribesmen.

After having played 10 innings with the score tied 3 and 3, the game between Kansas City and Louisville was called in order to permit the Colonels to catch a train.

Scoring five runs in the tenth inning the Hens won from the Millers 6 to 1.

Although outlit, the Senators bunched two hits and a hit batsman in the third inning for two runs and defeated the Saints in the final game of the series 2 to 0.

FRANK WALSH, MEDAL SCORE 150, LEADS THE FIELD

WISCONSIN OPEN GOLF TOURNAMENT STAGED AT KENOSHA

HIGH WIND IS SWEEPING THE WELL BUNKERED COURSE

By CHARLES E. AHRENS
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Kenosha, Country Club, Kenosha, Wis., Aug. 18.—Frank Walsh, Appleton professional, with a medal score of 150 for thirty-six holes today led the field in the Wisconsin open golf tournament being staged here.

With a high wind sweeping the well bunkered course, Walsh played a sensational game and turned in two rounds of 75 for his total. As the result of his excellent showing during the first day, Walsh is given an even chance to cop the title now held by Jack Blakeslee, Kenosha. Walsh went out in 36 on the first nine and came back in 39. On the second nine he had a beautiful 35 going out, but got into a little trouble coming back and turned in a 40. Blakeslee had 76 for his first eighteen holes and 76 for his second round.

Francis Gallett of the Blue Mound Country club is third in line with 154.

The high wind, which gave the golfers a great deal of trouble and time and again carried what would have been fairly straight drives into the rough, resulted in a number of the entries dropping out. Practically all of them finished the first 18 holes, but the second round saw a large number dropping by the wayside. Included in this lot were Bim Lovetin, Woodmont star, who was a favorite to win; Phil Senborn, Madison; Alex Wilnot, Milwaukee; Ray Anderson, Racine; Robert Gittins, Green Bay; Billy Eldt, Tuckaway and Guy Martin.

While the wind played its part in the high scores, poor putting on the unusually fast and tricky greens also took its toll.

With the field narrowed considerably after a large number dropped by the wayside during the first day's play, the entrants are expected to get under way some time shortly after nine o'clock today for the final thirty-six holes.

One of the surprising upsets of the tourney yesterday was the showing of Buddy Russell, Milwaukee Country club star. After having turned in a 75 for the first round, tying him with Walsh and Gallett, Russell went all to pieces in the afternoon and scored 188 for a total of 163.

'LITTLE STAR' WINS INTERNATIONAL RACE

Ottawa, Ont., Aug. 18.—(UP)—"Little Star," owned by the Waugh Brothers of Peoria, Ill., returned the Rudder international seaplane trophy to the United States after three days of races. The winner covered the 18-mile course in 31 minutes and 45 seconds.

"Miss Quincy" of New York was second, 9 seconds behind the western boat, and "Baby Vagabond" of Montreal, third. "Miss Brown," of Ottawa, last year's winner, had difficulty in getting under way in the final heat and finished fifth.

HAROLD KALLAND IS ALL AROUND TRAPS CHAMPION

MAKES WONDERFUL RECORD AT SUPERIOR AND GRAND RAPIDS

WILL ATTEND GRAND AMERICAN HANDICAP AT DAYTON, OHIO

Harold Kalland, all around trapshooting champion of Minnesota, has returned from Superior, Wis., and Grand Rapids where he competed in trapshooting and "cleaned them up."

At Superior he broke 191 out of 200 and won the shoot. George Trent, Sr., professional, was high man in his class and broke 197 out of 200. At Grand Rapids Kalland broke 158 out of 160 and won the shoot.

Kalland will go to Dayton, Ohio, Saturday noon and shoot at the Grand American handicap all next week. If he continues in his present form he will be among the high guns.

Dundee to Meet Bretonnel
New York — Johnny Dundee, retired world's featherweight champion, meets Fred Bretonnel, French lightweight, in a 10 round bout at Ebbets Field, Brooklyn. Paul Berlenbach and Francis Charles meet in a semi-final 10 round match.

Stalling Boxers Fined
Chicago — Dick Quagerelli, New York junior lightweight and Eddie Speaks, Louisville, Ky., whose bout Monday night was stopped in the seventh round when Referee Dave Barry declared they were not trying, were fined $100 each by the Illinois boxing commission. It was the first fine for "coasting" issued by the local commission since the resumption of boxing here.

Things looked bad for Cleveland when Speaker lined to Shanks for a triple play in the game at Cleveland on June 14, 1924. But in the eleventh McNulty worked his way to third and then, with two out, he stole home on Murray, winning the game.

Seven assists at first base constitutes a world record. Kitty Bransfield, covering the initial sack for the Pirates, accepted 14 chances at Chicago May 3, 1904, and half of them were assists. Johnny Evers had a big day at short for Chicago, yet his assists were only three more than Kitty's.

Manager Frank Bancroft of the Detroit club was the first to use the shift when a left-handed hurler was doing duty. In a game played May 10, 1881, Worcester vs. Detroit, Banny benched Ed Hanlon when he heard that Richmond was going to pitch. It didn't make much difference, for Detroit made but four hits and received a shutout.

COMES CLOSE TO ADMITTING THAT HE'S LICKED

HAS TRIED EVERY PEACEFUL METHOD TO SMOOTH OUT FIGHT TANGLES

WAYS OF PROMOTER IN DEMPSEY-TUNNEY BATTLE HARD LINES

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

New York, Aug. 18.—Tex Rickard isn't one to admit that he's licked, but he was willing to concede today that he was down to his last shot in his battle to match Jack Dempsey and Gene Tunney for the world heavyweight championship.

After trying every peaceful method at his disposal to overcome the objections of the New York license committee, Rickard was forced to go to court with a mandamus suit to try to force the committee to grant a license to the champion.

"I don't like these court proceedings," Rickard said today, "but there was nothing left to do. There is more at stake than the Dempsey-Tunney fight. I've got a lot of money invested in the boxing business and I have to defend my legal rights."

Rickard admitted that he was none too optimistic even after he had been told that William Muldoon, senior member of the boxing commission, had said: "We're not beaten yet. The fight is not off."

James A. Farley, chairman of the commission, who has led what so far has been a successful fight to protect the challenge of Harry Wills, was as confident as Muldoon.

"Well, do you still think they are going to fight?" Farley asked with a loud laugh today. "I'll give you my opinion—and it's only an opinion—they're not."

Rickard said he would proceed with his plans for the fight pending the decision of the courts.

"I'm forced to go ahead now," he said. "I've got a lot of money invested. If the decision goes against us, I will not drop much more than I already have put into the preliminary arrangements."

YACHT FUGITIVE SAILS TO VICTORY

L. G. CARPENTER AT THE HELM OF THE CLASS A. BOAT

Oshkosh, Wis., Aug. 18.—(UP)—With L. G. Carpenter at the helm, the yacht Fugitive of the Minnetonka Yacht club, sailed to victory in the Class A. race of the Inland Lakes Yachting Association regatta here Tuesday afternoon.

The time was 2:29:20 and it was only the superior skippering of Carpenter that carried the Minnetonka yacht to victory.

John Buckstaff, skippering the Haywire of the local yacht club, was second, finishing in 2:32:00 and was followed thirty-three seconds later by the Shadow, Neenah yacht, with Jack Kimberly skippering.

The Fugitive took the lead at the start and stayed out in front during most of the six two-mile legs.

The races were off without mishap. Racing will continue today, smaller boats being on the program for the morning and the Class A. event again scheduled for this afternoon. The breeze was not as strong as yesterday, but sufficiently strong to permit excellent sailing today.

Helen Wills Has No Desire to Turn Professional in Tennis

Chicago, Aug. 18.—(UP)—Charles C. Pyle's pile of cash for tennis players holds no interest for Helen Wills, she said as she passed through Chicago, en route to her home at Berkeley, Calif., where she will re-enter the University of California.

"I have not been approached by Mr. Pyle but amateur tennis and my work at college keeps me busy now," she said. "I have no desire to turn professional," she added emphatically. She said she would not play Suzanne Lenglen when the French star tours this country, but might play her in France in two years.

PARKING LAW

TO BE ENFORCED

25 Motorists Who Parked Too Long Appeared in Court Today

ALL CASES DISMISSED

Cannot Park Over One Hour on Business Streets, Violators to Be Fined

With small white tags in their hands which says something about disobeying parking regulations and to appear at court at a certain time, 25 local motorists and tourists lined up this morning in municipal police court in answer to their summons for parking their motor cars for more than one hour on business streets of Brainerd during business hours from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m.

As these offenders of the parking ordinance were the first to be brought before the court on this charge, the court showed leniency but Police Chief Templeton today stated that now that fair warning has been given, the motorist who parks his car longer than the specified time will have to take the consequences. A fine upwards to $10 may be taxed the offender, he stated.

The 25 motorists this morning were dismissed from court after Municipal Judge Ezra R. Smith had read the ordinance to them.

INDIAN POW WOW

Cass Lake to be Scene of Large Gathering of Red August 20, 21 and 22

Cass Lake will be the scene of what promises to be the largest Indian Pow Wow ever held in this state August 20, 21, and 22. The Chippewa Indians are coming from the various reservations including Red Lake, White Earth, Leech Lake, and Winnibigoshish. All the notable Indians will be present including Chief Green Hill of Squaw Point and Chief Blackbird of Turtle River. Besides speeches in Chippewa there will be dancing of all kinds, square dance races, pony races, boat races, a parade of all braves and ponies in full regalia, and everything else that goes with a large Indian gathering and celebration.

When the full council is assembled, they expect to be able to elect the Ogema, or Chief, along with the other officers of the council. Very important issues pertaining to the Chippewa cause are expected to be taken up and settled.

Although this is a gathering of the Indians, arrangements are being made to take care of a large number of visiting whites.

PARKING LAW TO BE ENFORCED

25 Motorists Who Parked Too Long Appeared in Court Today

ALL CASES DISMISSED

Cannot Park Over One Hour on Business Streets, Violators to Be Fined

With small white tags in their hands which says something about disobeying parking regulations and to appear at court at a certain time, 25 local motorists and tourists lined up in answer to their summons for parking their motor cars for more than one hour on business streets of Brainerd during business hours from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m.

As these offenders of the parking ordinance were the first to be brought before the court on this charge, the court showed leniency but Police Chief Templeton today stated that now that fair warning has been given, the motorist who parks his car longer than the specified time will have to take the consequences. A fine upwards to $10 may be taxed the offender, he stated.

The 25 motorists this morning were dismissed from court after Municipal Judge Ezra R. Smith had read the ordinance to them.

CHILDREN'S HEART TAG DAY HERE

Volunteers of America to Make Appeal in Brainerd

SATURDAY, AUGUST 21

Activities of the Association Described, Especially Helping Children

The Volunteers of America, Gen. and Mrs. Maud Ballington Booth, National presidents, have been given permission by Mayor Frank E. Little to hold their annual children's Heart Tag Day in Brainerd on Saturday next as has been done in other nearby communities as reported by Mrs. M. M. Hall the affair will be sponsored by well known members of the clergy and civic circles and the children's work and finances in charge of a local leader.

"Mrs. Maud Booth's many activities and especially her prison work is known from coast to coast, for the organization is perhaps foremost in the nation in its systematic spiritual work in behalf of men behind prison walls or looking after their families, if destitute, in whichever state they live. There are hope halls and farm camps and employment bureaus for discharged and paroled men, homes for aged and for children, missions, holiday cheer, etc., especially in the larger cities," said Mrs. Hall.

The affair on Saturday will take the form of a children's drive to help children, little ones in this state less fortunate than themselves for the work is to be done by the older girls. There will be several pretty prizes, and movie passes to be competed for and the tags to be sold as is customary for whatever the purchaser is willing to give.

The local Salvation Army had made plans for a tag day on the same date but had not secured their permit and were forced to postpone their drive for funds for the benefit of the local corps until Monday, Aug. 30.

STATE THINKS CASE ESTABLISHED IN N. J. SUIT

EXPECTS TO HOLD THREE ON CHARGES OF MURDER AT SOMERVILLE

HALL-MILLS MURDER MYSTERY
EXPECTED TO BE UN-
RAVELLED

By PAUL W. WHITE
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Somerville, N. J., Aug. 18. — The state declared itself confident today that it had won its effort to have Willie Stevens and Henry De La Bruyere Carpenter held with Mrs. Frances Stevens Hall on charges of murder.

If the contention proves correct, then four years after the bodies of the Rev. Edward W. Hall and Mrs. Eleanor Mills, singer in his church choir, were found beneath a crab apple tree on the Phillips farm near New Brunswick, those allegedly responsible for the killing will be brought to trial.

"I feel that I have established a prima facie case," Special Prosecutor Alexander Simpson said before today's session of the hearing of Stevens and Carpenter opened before Judge Cleary here.

"I have not put in all the evidence we have gathered but I am confident we have made a case sufficient to warrant holding these two men for the grand jury."

Washington, Aug. 18. — A diary written by a woman which may contain valuable clues to the Hall-Mills murder, was en route to New Jersey authorities today.

Washington police, who sent the diary to the murder investigators after examining it carefully, said it contained valuable data but refused to indicate its nature. They also withdrew the name of the author.

The diary, defaced by fire and exposure to weather, was found on a trash pile in a Maryland suburb.

Somerville, N. J., Aug. 18. — Mrs. Leo Harkins, testifying in the hearing of the Hall-Mills murder case here today, told of having seen the Rev. Edward W. Hall and Mrs. Eleanor R. Mills, choir singer in his church, en route to the tryst beneath a crab apple tree on the abandoned Phillips farm, from which they never returned.

She and Dr. John F. Anderson, research chemist, who by scientific study, reconstructed certain details of the murder scene, were the chief witnesses at today's session of the hearing of Willie Stevens and Henry De La Bruyere Carpenter, charged with complicity in the murder.

CHAMPIONS OF THE WET CAUSE ARE ASSAILED

PRESIDENT OF NATIONAL CHRISTIAN TEMPERANCE UNION
IN STATEMENT

MRS. ELLA A. BOOLE SCORES
YOUTH DEGRADED"

Chicago, Aug. 18. — (UP) — Champions of the wet cause who picture the youth of the nation as degrading because of prohibition were bitterly assailed today by Mrs. Ella A. Boole, president of the national Christian Temperance Union.

"There has been no cheaper trick in all American politics than this false picturing of youth," Mrs. Boole declared in a statement. "No meaner or political slander has ever been invented than this business of rubbing smut on the boys and girls by the liquor interests and their friends."

"This nation is basically sound and the attempt by politicians to survey the country through a wet keyhole has produced the usual results that keyhole operators obtain." Poor parental authority, not prohibition has given rise to the "cabaret fringe of gilded youth," Mrs. Boole said. The proper solution, she said, is to make liquor inaccessible.

"If the law is modified, drink will be more easily obtained."

CHILD EATS 20 ASPERIN TABLETS; DIES FROM EFFECT

The two men are charged with being leaders in the Osage "reign of terror" in which a number of wealthy Indians were murdered. Roan Horse was one of the victims.

Few Successful Plungers

The majority of those who have built up fortunes laid the foundations of their success in thrift. They began by saving small amounts. Had they gone in for the larger and quicker returns they might have ended in complete personal failure. Lighting Pullman Cars

Cars were largely used from 1885 to 1874, oil from 1875 to 1890 and kerosene from 1891 to 1900. The first electrically lighted train was the Pennsylvania Limited, June, 1897, a dynamo engine being placed in the baggage car. Later, about 1898, individual axle lighting generators were developed.

THREATS MADE TO ASSASSINATE SEN. BROOKHART

2 THREATENING LETTERS ARE RECEIVED AT MARION,
IOWA

SOLON IS SCHEDULED TO SPEAK
THIS AFTERNOON AT THE
MARION FAIR

Cedar Rapids, Ia., Aug. 18. — (UP) — Threats to assassinate Smith W. Brookhart, United States senatorial candidate, should he carry out a scheduled speech at the Marion fair this afternoon, were contained in two letters received by Marion citizens.

Brookhart arrived here at 12:10 p. m. today and was met by a detail of police and deputy sheriffs and was escorted from the train to Marion. He will be guarded throughout his stay there this afternoon.

One letter was signed the "Black Hand" and was received by F. C. H. Schminks, Marion druggist, who will introduce Brookhart this afternoon. It said:

"Brookhart is a socialist and so are you or you wouldn't introduce him. If Brookhart carries out his scheduled speech this afternoon he will be a dead man."

The second letter was received by a prominent Marion business man, whose name police withheld, and also made threats against the colonel's life.

Police believe the letters are the work of a crank or a fanatic.

STATE THINKS CASE ESTABLISHED IN N. J. SUIT

EXPECTS TO HOLD THREE ON CHARGES OF MURDER AT

HALL-MILLS MURDER MYSTERY
EXPECTED TO BE UN-
RAVELLED

By PAUL W. WHITE
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Somerville, N. J., Aug. 18. — The state declared itself confident today that it had won its effort to have Willie Stevens and Henry De La Bruyere Carpenter held with Mrs. Frances Stevens Hall on charges of murder.

If the contention proves correct, then four years after the bodies of the Rev. Edward W. Hall and Mrs. Eleanor Mills, singer in his church choir, were found beneath a crab apple tree on the Phillips farm near New Brunswick, those allegedly responsible for the killing will be brought to trial.

"I feel that I have established a prima facie case," Special Prosecutor Alexander Simpson said before today's session of the hearing of Stevens and Carpenter opened before Judge Cleary here.

"I have not put in all the evidence we have gathered but I am confident we have made a case sufficient to warrant holding these two men for the grand jury."

Washington, Aug. 18. — A diary written by a woman which may contain valuable clues to the Hall-Mills murder, was en route to New Jersey authorities today.

Washington police, who sent the diary to the murder investigators after examining it carefully, said it contained valuable data but refused to indicate its nature. They also withdrew the name of the author.

The diary, defaced by fire and exposure to weather, was found on a trash pile in a Maryland suburb.

Somerville, N. J., Aug. 18. — Mrs. Leo Harkins, testifying in the hearing of the Hall-Mills murder case here today, told of having seen the Rev. Edward W. Hall and Mrs. Eleanor R. Mills, choir singer in his church, en route to the trust beneath a crab apple tree on the abandoned Phillips farm, from which they never returned.

She and Dr. John F. Anderson, research chemist, who by scientific study, reconstructed certain details of the murder scene, were the chief witnesses at today's session of the hearing of Willie Stevens and Henry De La Bruyere Carpenter, charged with complicity in the murder.

RAILS FAVORED IN TODAY'S TRADING

New York, Aug. 18. — (UP) — Today's trading was distinctly in favor of the rails. Tuesday's heavy selling of the industrials was continued, forcing new lows on the movement in leaders like Steel, Allied Chemical, General Electric and American Can. C. & O. and Pere Marquette achieved record prices. Rock Island reached its best levels since its reorganization and Union Pacific the highest price since 1914.

Plant Lived Without Air

That a plant can grow inside of a hermetically sealed glass bulb was demonstrated before the National Academy of Sciences. Water drawn up through the roots and evaporated from the leaves was condensed on the sides of the glass and, running down, used again. — Popular Mechanics Magazine.

CHAMPIONS OF THE WET CAUSE ARE ASSAILED

PRESIDENT OF NATIONAL CHRISTIAN TEMPERANCE UNION
IN STATEMENT

YOUTH DEGRADED"

Chicago, Aug. 18. — (UP) — Champions of the wet cause who picture the youth of the nation as degrading because of prohibition were bitterly assailed today by Mrs. Ella A. Boole, president of the national Christian Temperance Union.

"There has been no cheaper trick in all American politics than this false picturing of youth," Mrs. Boole declared in a statement. "No meaner political slander has ever been invented than this business of rubbing smut on the boys and girls by the liquor interests and their friends. 'This nation is basically sound and the attempt by politicians to survey the country through a wet keyhole has produced the usual results that keyhole operators obtain.'"

Poor parental authority, not prohibition has given rise to the "cabaret fringe of gilded youth," Mrs. Boole said. The proper solution, she said, is to make liquor inaccessible.

"If the law is modified, drink will be more easily obtained."

CHILD EATS 20 ASPERIN TABLETS; DIES FROM EFFECT

Fergus Falls, Minn., Aug. 18. — (UP) — Beatrice Marsh, 2-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Marsh, of Oak Valley township, died here today after she had eaten a number of aspirin tablets she found in her back yard. The child found the aspirin in a box while playing with other children and was said to have eaten 20 tablets. She died within two hours.

FATE OF TWO IN JURY'S HANDS

Guthrie, Okla., Aug. 18. — (UP) — The fate of W. K. Hale, "king of the Osage hills," and John Ramsey—who are charged with the murder of Henry Roan Horse, a wealthy Osage Indian—will be in the hands of a federal jury tomorrow.

The two men are charged with being leaders in the Osage "reign of terror" in which a number of wealthy Indians were murdered. Roan Horse was one of the victims.

Few Successful Plungers

The majority of those who have built up fortunes laid the foundations of their success in thrift. They began by saving small amounts. Had they gone in for the larger and quicker returns they might have ended in complete personal failure. Successful plungers are few, but those who have succeeded through thrift are legion. — Thrift Magazine.

Lighting Pullman Cars

Cars were largely used from 1885 to 1914, oil from 1875 to 1890 and Pullman cars from 1891 to 1908. The first electrically lighted train was the Pennsylvania Limited, June, 1897, a dynamo engine being placed in the baggage car. Later, along about 1898, individual axle lighting generators were developed.

Swiftest Sea Bird

The frigate bird is the swiftest of all sea birds. In the equatorial isles of the Pacific these birds are fed by the natives before they learn to fly. They soon become so tame that they will return to their perch at night, after a day of perfect freedom.

Named From Greek Letter

The name "delta" was given to a tract of land inclosed by the mouths of the Nile river, which was shaped like the Greek letter delta. Now the term is used for any land so situated.

DOCTOR DIES AFTER ALLEGED LIQUOR PARTY

Minneapolis, Aug. 18. — (UP) — Mrs. J. D. McDermott, said to be the wife of a Chicago millionaire, is being held by police following the death of Dr. Norman Barden, a physician, in her room in a hotel here today.

Dr. Barden died at 11:30 a. m. today following an alleged liquor party in Mrs. McDermott's room. Mrs. McDermott was held without charge.

A post-mortem examination of Dr. Barden's body was made immediately. When Dr. Barden died, police said, Mrs. McDermott summoned a bellboy and told him what had happened. He notified police.

Dr. Barden was 30 years old.

THREATS MADE TO ASSASSINATE SEN. BROOKHART

2 THREATENING LETTERS ARE RECEIVED AT MARION,
IOWA

SOLOIN IS SCHEDULED TO SPEAK
THIS AFTERNOON AT THE
MARION FAIR

Cedar Rapids, Ia., Aug. 18. — (UP) — Threats to assassinate Smith W. Brookhart, United States senatorial candidate, should he carry out a scheduled speech at the Marion fair this afternoon, were contained in two letters received by Marion citizens.

Brookhart arrived here at 12:10 p. m. today and was met by a detail of police and deputy sheriffs and was escorted from the train to Marion. He will be guarded throughout his stay there this afternoon.

One letter was signed the "Black Hand" and was received by F. C. H. Schminks, Marion druggist, who will introduce Brookhart this afternoon.

"Brookhart is a socialist and so are you or you wouldn't introduce him. If Brookhart carries out his scheduled speech this afternoon he will be a dead man."

The second letter was received by a prominent Marion business man, whose name police withheld, and also made threats against the colonel's life.

Police believe the letters are the work of a crank or a fanatic.

CHARGED WITH EMBEZZLING $12,000 TAXPAYERS' MONEY

Chicago, Aug. 18. — (UP) — Edward Selbman, chief field deputy collector of the internal revenue department, was arrested today by federal agents on a charge of embezzling $12,000 of taxpayers' money.

Following his arrest, Selbman twice attempted to take his own life at the federal building, once by shooting himself and later by jumping from a fifth floor window.

Man Has Miraculous Escape

"I was told by our family physician that I could not live without an operation, as my liver and gall sack were in such a condition. I set the day to go to the hospital, but then I saw the advertisement of MAYR'S. Since taking it I am feeling like a two-year-old. I am sure I never could have survived an operation." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. Johnson's Pharmacy and druggists everywhere. — Advt.
